

Callie Andrews, MSHA, MBA, FACHE
SVP, Wellstar Health System
Chief Operating Officer, Wellstar Kennestone Hospital

Callie Andrews serves as senior vice president of Wellstar Health System and chief operating officer of Wellstar Kennestone and Windy Hill Hospitals; Acworth, Cherokee and East Cobb Health Parks. In this role, Callie provides oversight of the day-to-day administrative and operational functions. She fosters effective collaboration between corporate, clinical departments, medical staff leadership, and other affiliated services to ensure an integrated approach to providing high-quality and compassionate care for patients and consumers.

Callie has consistently demonstrated expertise in healthcare administration, a commitment to operational excellence, and experience as a healthcare leader. Callie brings over 15 years of experience in executive leadership roles within the healthcare industry, including five years at Wellstar Cobb Hospital, beginning as chief operating officer and being promoted to hospital president.

During her tenure at Wellstar Cobb Hospital, Callie served as incident commander and executive for COVID-19 and co-led the COVID-19 system operations team to provide daily COVID planning, operationalization, and escalation. She also served as executive lead in operationalizing a comprehensive oncology network for Wellstar Health System. Callie has led significant quality improvements allowing Wellstar Cobb to earn its designation as a Top 250 Hospital by Healthgrades for the last two years.

Prior to joining Wellstar, Callie served as the chief operating officer of Eastside Medical Center in Snellville, GA, where she provided oversight for the medical center's clinical ancillary and support departments, outpatient services, behavioral health services, and inpatient rehab. Callie also provided leadership for Redmond Regional Medical Center in Rome, GA, where she began as an administrative resident and moved into the role of associate chief operating officer. While at Redmond, she led ancillary operations, completed HCA's Chief Operating Officer Development Program and earned her Fellowship with the American College of Healthcare Executives.

Callie received a Bachelor of Science degree at the University of Georgia, a Master of Business Administration, and a Master of Science in Healthcare Administration, both received from the University of Alabama at Birmingham. She has a strong passion for community health and is a board member of the Cobb Community Foundation and SafePath Children's Advocacy Center. Callie has served as the Georgia Association of Healthcare Executives Past-President and has received the American College of Healthcare Executives Regent's Award.

Callie and her husband live in Atlanta, Georgia, with their daughter.
