

Isaac Ramsingh
Assistant Vice President, Organizational
Effectiveness & Engagement
Atrium Health

Isaac Ramsingh is an accomplished leader who has followed an unorthodox path to his role in Human Resources. Having started in Information Services at Navicent Health (previously Central Georgia Health Systems) in 2004, Isaac transitioned to Compliance to serve as the system's Information Security & Privacy Officer for 6 years. After successfully leading a number of stretch projects outside the scope of that role, he was asked by the senior executive team to join HR to, among several other objectives, help begin transforming the HR function into one that wasn't totally dedicated to a transactional existence.

His HR work initially included development and execution of strategies related to talent management, teammate engagement and leadership development and coaching. Over the past few years his work has expanded to include diversity/equity/inclusion, teammate communications, and leadership assignments in several other critical areas. Isaac leads work to increase capability of leaders, front-line staff and teams, and to in turn optimize organizational effectiveness.

Isaac enjoys spending time with his beautiful wife, two children and a new puppy, and also enjoys giving back through activities like coaching soccer and playing and leading music at his church. He's also an avid foodie and enjoys geeking out over automotive engineering and design.
