

The Authority on Aluminum

The LME warehouse queues have created stubbornly high MW aluminum price premiums for which no end appears in sight. We understand the buyer pain associated with these queues and, as the No. 1 destination for metal buyers in North America, have the tools and the talent to guide your purchasing decisions.

MetalMiner is the only industrial metals trade site that has

- Former metal buyers at the helm who stand alone in articulating how the scheme functions, who profits, and what may happen to aluminum premiums
- The highest level of experience with contracting and structuring deals
- The best position in which to act as futurists, gauge scenarios and conduct price forecasting
- Mastered the stock and finance trade, wholly, including
 - How it works
 - Who it benefits
 - What its underlying behaviors indicate
