American Repertory Theater Announces Cast and Creative Team for The Black Clown

Cambridge, MA—American Repertory Theater at Harvard University (A.R.T.), under the leadership of Terrie and Bradley Bloom Artistic Director Diane Paulus and Executive Producer Diane Borger, announces complete casting and creative team for The Black Clown. The production begins previews Friday, August 31; opens Wednesday, September 5; and closes Sunday, September 23, 2018 at the Loeb Drama Center in Cambridge, MA.

“You laugh / Because I’m poor and black and funny…”, begins Langston Hughes’ poem, The Black Clown. This world premiere music theater experience fuses vaudeville, opera, jazz, and spirituals to bring Hughes’ verse to life onstage to animate a Black man’s resilience against a legacy of oppression. The production features Davóne Tines (Crossing and Run AMOC! Festival at A.R.T.) in the title role, an ensemble of twelve, and a new score by Michael Schachter (Run AMOC! Festival at A.R.T.).

Tines says, “Langston Hughes’ expansive and penetrating engagement with the life of the other has been a guiding salve since I was first introduced to his work in elementary school. This production provides the opportunity to harness Hughes’ words and my life experience as a Black man to claim humanity for myself, my race, and all people.”

Paulus says, “At the A.R.T. we create work that helps us more fully see and hear each other—work that fosters empathy, dialogue, and transformation. Four years ago, we heard the beginnings of The Black Clown and we knew immediately that we had to commit to these artists and the development of this work. I’m so thrilled that The Black Clown is opening A.R.T.’s 2018/19 Season.”

The ensemble includes Sumayya Ali (Natasha, Pierre & the Great Comet of 1812 at A.R.T.), Malcolm Armwood (Motown the Musical National Tour), Daniel Bellomy (“The Deuce”), Dawn Bless (Gypsy at Porchlight Theater), LaVon Fisher-Wilson (Disney’s Newsies on Broadway), Lindsey Hailes (The Lucky Ones at Ars Nova), Evan Tyrone Martin (Duke Ellington’s Greatest Hits at Music Theater Works), Jhardon DiShon Milton (A Bronx Tale on Broadway), Amber Barbee Pickens (Cirque du Soleil’s Paramour on Broadway), Jamar Williams (Burn All Night and Witness Uganda at A.R.T.), and Hailee Kaleem Wright (Hairspray with Jersey Shore Productions).
The Black Clown is adapted from the Langston Hughes’ poem by Davóne Tines and Michael Schachter. It is directed by Zack Winokur (Artistic Director, Director, and performer in Run AMOC! Festival at A.R.T; Director of L’incoronazione di Poppea at Cincinnati Opera). Choreography is by Chanel DaSilva (Co-Founder and Co-Director of MOVE(NYC); spring 2018 Artist-in-Residence at Harvard Dance Center). Music direction is by Jaret Landon (Crowns at McCarter Theatre Center and Long Wharf Theatre; The Christians at Steppenwolf Theatre Company and Baltimore Center Stage).

ABOUT AMERICAN REPERTORY THEATER

American Repertory Theater at Harvard University (A.R.T.) is a leading force in the American theater, producing groundbreaking work in Cambridge and beyond. A.R.T. was founded in 1980 by Robert Brustein, who served as Artistic Director until 2002, when he was succeeded by Robert Woodruff. Diane Paulus began her tenure as Artistic Director in 2008. Under the leadership of Paulus as the Terrie and Bradley Bloom Artistic Director and Executive Producer Diane Borger, A.R.T. seeks to expand the boundaries of theater by producing transformative theatrical experiences, always including the audience as a central partner.

Throughout its history, A.R.T. has been honored with many distinguished awards including the Tony Award for Best New Play for All the Way (2014); consecutive Tony Awards for Best Revival of a Musical for Pippin (2013) and The Gershwins’ Porgy and Bess (2012), both of which Paulus directed, and sixteen other Tony Awards since 2012; a Pulitzer Prize; a Jujamcyn Prize for outstanding contribution to the development of creative talent; the Regional Theater Tony Award; and more than 100 Elliot Norton and IRNE Awards.

A.R.T. collaborates with artists around the world to develop and create work in new ways. It is currently engaged in a number of multi-year projects, including a collaboration with Harvard’s Center for the Environment that will result in the development of new work over several years. Under Paulus’ leadership, the A.R.T.’s club theater, OBERON, has been an incubator for local and emerging artists and has attracted national attention for its innovative programming and business models.

As the professional theater on the campus of Harvard University, A.R.T. catalyzes discourse, interdisciplinary collaboration, and creative exchange among a wide range of academic departments, institutions, students, and faculty members, acting as a conduit between its community of artists and the university. A.R.T. mentors students in the Harvard Radcliffe Dramatic Club working at the Loeb Drama Center and OBERON, and plays a central role in Harvard’s undergraduate Theater, Dance & Media concentration, teaching courses in directing, dramatic literature, acting, voice, design, and dramaturgy.

Dedicated to making great theater accessible, A.R.T. actively engages more than 5,000 community members and local students annually in project-based partnerships, workshops, conversations with artists, and other enrichment activities both at the theater and across the Greater Boston area.

Through all of these initiatives, A.R.T. is dedicated to producing world-class performances in which the audience is central to the theatrical experience.
