THE MOTH STORYSLAMS
Tuesday, August 13 at 8PM
Tuesday, August 27 at 8PM
Tickets $15

The Moth StorySLAMs are steadily spreading all over the map, gathering people and stories from all over the country. New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, and Boston have multiple shows each month. The Moth is open to anyone with a five-minute story to share on the night’s posted theme. The brave of heart, or those with stories they’re aching to tell, prepare personal, true tales. When the doors open, storyteller hopefuls put their names in The Moth Hat. A half hour later, names are picked, and one by one, storytellers take the stage. Each person has just five minutes! The ten featured stories are scored by teams of judges selected from the audience. Each StorySLAM generates a StorySLAM winner. After ten SLAMs, the winners face off in our GrandSLAM Championships. Come sign up to tell a story, or just enjoy the show!

The theme for August 13 is camp. Prepare a five-minute story about camp; the summer destination where you found friends, first loves, and maybe a bees nest or two. Roughing it out in the woods or pitching tents in your backyard. Whether it’s the territory or community, you’ll defend to the death, or the unbridled joy of kitsch and pomp, we want to hear what camp, or your camp, means to you.

The theme for August 27 is paper. Prepare a five-minute story about paper. Newsprint, to do lists, photo albums, pink slips. The concert tickets you spent your last dime on or the lease for your dream apartment. Bounced checks, love letters, divorce documents. Getting it in writing or signing your life away. The pen may be mightier than the sword…but not without something to write on.

COOTIE CATCHER
Thursday, August 22 at 8PM

“This will undoubtedly be the most candid talk about STDs you’ll ever sit through, and probably the funniest.” – Orlando Weekly

In this hilarious (and borderline-terrifying) story series, Lucas Brooks (also known as The Intellectual Homosexual) looks back on his many close encounters of the sexually transmissible kind. Guided by his trusty cootiecatcher (fortune teller, chatterbox, whatever you want to call it) and some sweet, sweet dance moves, he recalls his days of bouncing around New York City’s sexual landscape, dodging cooties like a very sexy game of Pong. Through his naked (yet carefully wrapped) adventures, he struggles with his ability to remain sex-positive in the face of a slut-shaming and STI-phobic society.

BLACK LIGHT
A.R.T. Subscription Season
Thursday, September 19 – Sunday, September 29 at various times
Ticket from $25

“★★★★! Jomama invites us to see her, to witness her, and to go from Black Light back out into daylight with our senses somehow both sharpened and softened: more able to hear others, more able to see ourselves.” - Vulture

Daniel Alexander Jones performs as the iconic Jomama Jones in a spiritual revival for turbulent times. This intimate journey through the darkness of personal and political upheaval and the shards of shattered illusions is illuminated by spontaneous humor and what The New Yorker calls Jones’ “very particular radiance.” With all original music, drawing influence from Prince, Sade, Diana Ross, and Tina Turner, Black Light is marked significantly by the Black American Freedom movement, Afronymysticism, goddess mythology, and divination. This immersive performance piece removes the barrier between artist and audience through inquiry, story, and song.
