Divorced, beheaded, died, divorced, beheaded, survived. All this time, the six wives of Henry VIII have been reduced to a single rhyme—so they picked up a pen and a microphone. From Tudor Queens to Pop Princesses, the wives take to the mic to tell their tales, remixing five hundred years of historical heartbreak into a 75-minute celebration of 21st century girl power.

“★★★★! 75 minutes of exhilarating entertainment from six killer queens. They will, they will rock you!”
– Daily Express

BLACK LIGHT
September 19 – 29, 2019 | OBERON

Created by Daniel Alexander Jones
Original Songs by Jomama Jones, Laura Jean Anderson, Bobby Halvorson, Dylan Meek, and Josh Quat

Daniel Alexander Jones performs as the iconic Jomama Jones in a spiritual revival for turbulent times. This intimate journey through the darkness of personal and political upheaval and the shards of shattered illusions is illuminated by spontaneous humor and what The New Yorker calls Jones’ “very particular radiance.” With all original music, drawing influence from Prince, Sade, Diana Ross, and Tina Turner, Black Light is marked significantly by the Black American Freedom movement, Afrormysticism, goddess mythology, and divination. This immersive performance piece removes the barrier between artist and audience through inquiry, story, and song.

“★★★★! Jomama invites us to see her, to witness her, and to go from Black Light back out into daylight with our senses somehow both sharpened and softened: more able to hear others, more able to see ourselves.” –Vulture

MOBY-DICK
WORLD PREMIERE MUSICAL
December 3, 2019 – January 12, 2020 | Loeb Drama Center

Music, Lyrics, Book, and Orchestrations by Dave Malloy
Based on Moby-Dick by Herman Melville
Developed with and Directed by Rachel Chavkin

“We are all in the belly of the whale…”

From the creative team behind A.R.T.’s 2015 production of Natasha, Pierre & The Great Comet of 1812 comes a new musical adaptation of Moby-Dick. As Ishmael, Captain Ahab, and his crew pursue the elusive great white whale aboard the Pequod, Herman Melville’s nineteenth-century vision of America collides head-on with the present.

“Dave Malloy breaks many of the rules that have accrued around American musical theater, and Ms. Chavkin has been making enormously inventive, and often wildly experimental, work for years.”
–The New York Times

Directed by Diane Paulus

In association with the McCarter Theatre Center and by special arrangement with Daryl Roth

History. Her story. Our story. This new play about Gloria Steinem and the women she has partnered with in a decades-long fight for equality is brought to life by a dynamic ensemble of performers. Fifty years after Gloria began raising her voice and championing those of others, her vision is as urgent as ever. Gloria’s belief in talking circles as a catalyst for change offers us all a path forward. The first act is Gloria’s story; the second is our own.

“A powerful stage experience that’s one part theater, one part consciousness-raising.” –Vogue
OCEAN FILIBUSTER
WORLD PREMIERE
March 7 – 27, 2020 | Loeb Drama Center

Created by PearlDamour
Written by Lisa D’Amour
Music by Sxip Shirey
Directed by Katie Pearl
Commissioned and developed through a partnership with the Harvard University Center for the Environment

Inside the Senate chamber of a global governing body, Mr. Majority introduces the “End of Ocean Bill,” designed to shrink Earth’s oceans into a more manageable (and marketable) collection of inland seas and lagoons. When the floor is opened for debate, the Ocean arrives to speak in its own defense, and so begins the Human-Ocean showdown. A world-premiere music theater experience created by the Obie Award-winning company PearlDamour, Ocean Filibuster draws from myth, stand-up, and science to explore the vast depths crucial to our daily survival.

PearlDamour and its works have been honored with the 2011 Lee Reynolds Award, 2007 and 2005 “Best Site-Specific Performance” citations from Gothamist, and the 2003 Obie Award.

Created and performed by Whitney White

Macbeth in Stride is a live concert and theatrical event that excavates the underbelly of female ambition. With throbbing orchestrations of vintage rock, creator/performer Whitney White traces the fatalistic arc of Shakespeare’s Lady Macbeth while taking a look at black female power and desire. One in a five-part series all exploring Shakespeare’s women set to music.

1776
May 22 – June 28, 2020 | Loeb Drama Center

Book by Peter Stone
Music and Lyrics by Sherman Edwards
Directed by Diane Paulus

They knew they would make history, but not what history would make of them. Fed up with living under the tyranny of British rule, John Adams attempts to persuade his fellow members of the Continental Congress to vote in favor of American Independence and sign the Declaration. But how much is he willing to compromise in the pursuit of freedom? And who does that freedom belong to? Terrie and Bradley Bloom Artistic Director Diane Paulus directs a new production of this Tony Award-winning musical, reexamining this pivotal moment in American history.

GREATER GOOD
WORLD PREMIERE
July 17 – August 17, 2019 | Commonwealth School (151 Commonwealth Ave., Boston)

By Kirsten Greenidge
Directed by Steven Bogart
Produced by Company One Theatre in collaboration with A.R.T. and with support from the Mellon Foundation’s National Playwright Residency Program administered in partnership with HowlRound

Welcome to Gleason Street—where the teachers are underpaid, the head of school is overwhelmed, and we do NOT talk about that thing that happened at the last parent council meeting (so don’t bother asking about it). As the audience tours the struggling elementary school, each classroom explored and each encounter witnessed could upend our assumptions about the ways we educate, govern, and collectively strive toward the greater good. Equal parts playful and provoking, Obie award winner Kirsten Greenidge’s Greater Good is a one-of-a-kind theatrical experience.

“Greenidge is never one to shy away from topics that fuel fiery debates [and] seems to have an uncanny sense of the world around her.” – The Boston Globe

WHAT TO SEND UP WHEN IT GOES DOWN
November 20 – 24, 2019 | Loeb Drama Center

Written by Aleshea Harris
Directed by Whitney White

What to Send Up When It Goes Down is a community ritual created in response to the deaths of Black people as a result of racialized violence. As lines between characters and actors, observers and observed blur, a dizzying series of vignettes build to a climactic moment where performance and reality collide. Meant to disrupt the pervasiveness of anti-blackness and acknowledge the resilience of Black people throughout history, this theatrical work uses parody, song, movement, and audience participation to create a space for catharsis, reflection, cleansing, and healing.

“If you’re a lover of theater, looking for signs of fresh and original and in-the-moment life on the American stage, you need to see What to Send Up.” – The New York Times

The glitter-filled party rages on the dance floor to all the best 70s hits as the show unfolds around the audience. After the show, the party continues into the night so you can live out your fever fantasy.
The first production Terrie and Bradley Bloom Artistic Director Diane Paulus staged at the A.R.T., The Donkey Show was a catalyst in establishing OBERON as a club-theater venue where artists could experiment with space, storytelling, and the relationships between performers and audiences.
