List of Domestic & International Insurance Associations

General Insurance Association of Japan

Background/Activities

Prior to the present Association's establishment in 1946, its origin can be traced back to 1917, when the Joint Fire Insurance Association of Japan was founded by domestic and foreign insurance companies then operating in Japan. In 1939 the Joint Association was reorganized as the Dai-Nippon Fire Insurance Association. In 1941 it was amalgamated with several marine insurance organizations, such as the Japan Marine Underwriters' Association and the Hull Insurers' Union, established in 1920 and 1927 respectively, into the former Marine and Fire Insurance Association of Japan consisting of only domestic companies as regular members. The following year, in 1942, its name and functions were changed to the Non-Life Insurance Control Association assisting the government in the control of the industry during a chaotic economic period. Shortly after the hostilities ended, in September 1945, however, this Control Association was dissolved

The Marine and Fire Insurance Association of Japan was reestablished on April 1, 1946, by all the domestic non-life insurance companies. On May 1, 1948, it was reorganized as an incorporated body. On May 20, 2003, it changed its English name to the General Insurance Association of Japan and is currently composed of 23 member companies.

The objective of the Association is to promote the sound development of the non-life insurance industry in Japan.

The Canadian Board of Marine Underwriters (CMBU)

Background/Activities

Founded in 1917, The Canadian Board of Marine Underwriters (CBMU) has always been an active force in representing the goals and interest of the Marine Insurance Industry in Canada.

Almost certainly one of Canada’s oldest associations, the CBMU was originally headquartered in Montreal, moving to Toronto in the 1970’s. With a long history of emphasis on trade policy, legislation, loss prevention and ship building maintenance, the CBMU has moved with the times and as we enter the 21st century the importance of education and communication have been identified as a key priority.

The CBMU has three stated AIMS:

1. To procure and disseminate information of interest to marine underwriters.
2. To facilitate the exchange of views and ideas which work to improve the marine underwriting industry and marine insurance in general; and
3. To promote and protect the interests of the underwriting community in general through various activities.

Chartered Life Underwriter Institute
Background/Activities	The Institute administers and promotes the CLU designation. It also administers the Code of Professional Conduct for all Advocis members, including CLU advisors. The Practice Standards committee of the Institute is responsible for the development of insurance practice standards. These standards set out the professional behavior that is expected of Advocis members when they deal with their clients on involving life, health and group insurance matters. A person holding the Chartered Life Underwriter designation is a specialist in life insurance and estate planning. The CLU advisor’s education is rooted in financial planning, as represented by the CFP™ designation. The CLU educational program consists of three specialized courses that provide additional learning in life insurance applications, insurance law and taxation, and applied estate planning. The content of these courses builds upon the concepts found in the courses leading to the CFP™ designation. Virtually every financial planning engagement involves a review of the client’s risk management strategies. An advisor earns the CFP™ designation to substantiate his/her expertise as a financial planner. It makes sense for CFP™ professionals to earn the CLU designation to symbolize their expertise in life insurance and estate planning.

The Croatian Insurance Bureau

Background/Activities

The Croatian Insurance Bureau was established in 1992 in Zagreb.

Its initial function was to represent the Croatian Green Card Bureau. When the Insurance Law was brought into force (18 February 1994), and especially the Law on Amendments to the Insurance Law (27 February 1997) the Bureau expanded its business to a great extent. In addition to its initial function (to act as the national Green Card Bureau), the Croatian Insurance Bureau runs a Guarantee Fund (that covers claims caused by uninsured or untraced motor vehicles, motorboats and aircrafts and the like).

The Bureau's activities furthermore comprise the organization and administration of the Motor Third Party Liability Frontier Insurance as well as the co-ordination and support of its Members that write the compulsory traffic insurance classes whilst defining common insurance conditions and premium rates.

The Croatian Insurance Bureau represents a legal person, and acts as an association of Croatian insurance companies.

The Slovenian Insurance Association

Background/Activities

The Slovenian Insurance Association (formerly the Slovenian Insurance Bureau) is the commercial interest association of Slovenian insurance companies. It was founded in 1992. The Association's activities and basic goals are set out in its Statutes. Membership of the Association is open to insurance companies involved in contract insurance which are registered in the Republic of Slovenia. Association membership is also open to other organizations where this is in the interests of the Association.

At present, the tasks are carried out by a 12-member professional service on the basis of resolutions of standing committees, committees and divisions and bodies of the Association, such as the assembly, council and the director.

One of the most important tasks of the SIA is the fulfillment of obligations from international treaties and agreements concerning insurance issues not within state competence. One example is the Uniform Agreement between Bureaux, which concerns the so-called green card - an international document on the insurance of motor vehicles against liability for damages caused to third parties in domestic and foreign traffic. The duties deriving from this agreement are carried out by the Green Card Bureau, which is an independent organizational unit of the Association with its own management body, professional service and head of the professional service.

GENEVA ASSOCIATION

Background/Activities	The International Association for the Study of Insurance Economics, or by its short name “The Geneva Association”, is a unique world organisation formed by a maximum of 80 chief executive officers from the most important insurance companies in the world (Europe, North and South America, Asia, Africa and Australia). Our main goal is to research the growing importance of worldwide insurance activities in all sectors of the economy. We try to identify fundamental trends and strategic issues where insurance plays a substantial role or which influence the insurance sector. In parallel, we develop and encourage various initiatives concerning the evolution – in economic and cultural terms – of risk management and the notion of uncertainty in the modern economy. The Geneva Association also acts as a forum for its members, providing a worldwide unique platform for the top insurance CEOs. We organise the framework for our members in order that they may exchange ideas and discuss key strategic issues, especially at the General Assembly where once per year over 50 of the top insurance CEOs gather. The Geneva Association serves as a catalyst for progress in this unprecedented period of fundamental change in the insurance industry and its growing importance for the further development of the modern economy. It is a non-profit organization.

The Association of Insurance Companies and Reinsurance Companies of Turkey

Background/Activities	The statute of association of Insurance and Reinsurance Companies of Turkey came into practice on the 10th June 1976. By the coming into force Law No.3379 regarding the Insurance Supervision on the 11th June 1987 amending certain articles of the Law No.7397, status of the association turned into a public institution. Another amendment was that the elections of the Association's organs should be made under judiciary supervision. Later on the 30th January 1989 the "Regulation Relating to the Working Principles of the Association of the Insurance and Reinsurance Companies of Turkey" came into force. All of the insurance and reinsurance companies, local or foreign, operating in Turkey and branch offices of foreign companies in Turkey are obliged to be members of the Association within three months following their being licensed by the Undersecretariat for the Treasury. At the end of 2002 the Association had 61 members, 58 being insurance and 3 reinsurance companies. The head office of the Association is in Istanbul and it has the power to open representative offices anywhere if it deems it necessary. As it is stated in the Law, the main purpose of the Association is the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • To ensure the development of the insurance profession, • To secure solidarity among insurance companies • To adopt and implement all the necessary measures needed to control unfair competition.

The American College

Background/Activities

Mission

The mission of The American College is to raise the level of professionalism of its students and, by extension, the financial services industry as a whole. By imparting expert knowledge—and by emphasizing that such knowledge must be regularly renewed and ethically applied—the College seeks to strengthen not only its students' professionalism, but also the financial security of individuals, families, businesses, and the society they serve.

Vision

Our vision is to be the recognized leader in financial services education and a premier source of knowledge in our continuously changing environment. Through our distinguished faculty, we will be known as the standard-bearer institution for advisor education in an increasingly complex planning climate.

We will establish the College as the ultimate credible source of financial services knowledge for the industry and the general public. We will provide customization of this knowledge that will be perpetually updated for currency and will extend our competence in distance education to the Internet. We will utilize technology as an enabler for practical knowledge application, providing education based on individual learning style, with a variety of delivery options.

European Conference of the National Institutes for Professional Insurance Education

Background/Activities

The aim of the European Conference is to enable those organizations who are responsible for vocational education and training in insurance in their countries to share their experiences at an international level. It works towards a greater homogeneity in both their professional education and training programs and final examinations in the light of the fact that insurance is an international business.

The national institutes for professional insurance education participating in the conference must provide educational activities for the whole country and be fully representative of insurance education in their country. If there is more than one institute in any one country which fulfils these demands, then that country may be represented by more than one organization. Requests for participation should be directed to the head office of the institute in the country organizing the conference for that particular year. The preparatory committee will make final decisions on which organizations will be invited.

Only representatives who occupy a senior position within their organization can represent their organization. The number of representatives will be limited to four per country.

An ordinary conference will take place annually. The location of the conference will be determined on the basis of rotation. The organizer of the conference will, therefore, change each year.

International Association of Insurance Supervisors (IAIS)
Background/Activities	Established in 1994, the International Association of Insurance Supervisors (IAIS) represents insurance regulators and supervisors of some 180 jurisdictions. Since 1999, the IAIS has welcomed insurance professionals as Observers. Currently there are more than 100 Observers representing industry associations, professional associations, insurers and reinsurers, consultants and international financial institutions. The IAIS issues global insurance principles, standards and guidance papers, provides training and support on issues related to insurance supervision, and organises meetings and seminars for insurance supervisors. The IAIS works closely with other financial sector standard setting bodies and international organisations to promote financial stability. It holds an Annual Conference where supervisors, industry representatives and other professionals discuss developments in the insurance sector and topics affecting insurance regulation. An Executive Committee, whose members represent different geographical regions, heads the IAIS. It is supported by three main committees - the Technical Committee, the Implementation Committee and the Budget Committee. These committees form subcommittees and working parties (working groups, task forces and groups) to accomplish their objectives.
