A MESSAGE FROM CRAIG W. FLOYD, PRESIDENT & CEO

As the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund has evolved, 2015 proved to be a pivotal year with continued efforts to align resources and successfully meet the organization's strategic priorities, including:

- Maximize the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial
- Create the National Law Enforcement Museum
- Promote Officer Safety and Wellness

The National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial serves as a powerful reminder of the service and sacrifice peace officers, and their families, have made for the safety and protection of our citizenry. As we bring forth the National Law Enforcement Museum, the Memorial will forever remain a focal point of the "campus for law enforcement" seated in Washington, DC's Judiciary Square. The Memorial Fund remains committed to operating the nation's monument to fallen officers and raising awareness amongst members of the law enforcement profession, survivors of the fallen, and the hundreds of thousands who visit each year.

Last year, our staff worked hard to secure the financing required to build the National Law Enforcement Museum which will tell the stories behind the names engraved on the Memorial. The Museum will educate visitors about law enforcement, demonstrate a day in an officer's life, provide insight to the often split-second decisions officers make and strengthen the relationships law enforcement has with the communities they serve. By bringing together citizens, community leaders and law enforcement, we can build on shared goals and create a safer society for all.

Working in partnership with the U.S. Department of Justice's Bureau of Justice Assistance and Community Oriented Policing Services divisions, we worked to reduce officer fatalities by identifying trends and key indicators born from the rich data our organization has compiled over the years. Continued efforts to improve traffic safety, through our partnership with the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, were also a focal point of organizational activities. The Recently Fallen Alerts program grew in 2015 and continues to provide timely notifications of peace officer fatalities.

There is solemn gratification in knowing that Memorial Fund fatality data, analysis and reporting is helping improve officer safety. Thanks to the support of many loyal donors and partners, the Memorial Fund was able to realize many of the achievements you will see throughout this Report. I am privileged to lead this organization as we continue our work to tell the stories of American law enforcement, make it safer for those who serve, and help to strengthen the bond between our officers and the public they serve and protect. I thank you for your steadfast support in 2015 and beyond.

EVERY 60 HOURS, A LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICER IS KILLED IN THE LINE OF DUTY.
THAT'S AN AVERAGE OF 144 OFFICERS KILLED EACH YEAR.

OUR MISSION AND VISION

Our Mission:

To tell the story of American law enforcement and make it safer for those who serve

Our Vision:

To inspire all citizens to value law enforcement

Our Longevity:

Founded in 1984 and proudly serving the nation for more than 30 years

OUR WORK

HONORING FALLEN LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS

Throughout the year, and especially during National Police Week each May, the Memorial Fund coordinates events that honor fallen officers and their surviving families. New names are engraved on the Memorial each April, and formally dedicated on May 13 during the annual Candlelight Vigil. In addition, many other events are held at the Memorial during National Police Week and throughout the year, including wreathlaying ceremonies, group tours, and other events that honor and remember the officers whose names are engraved on the monument.

PROMOTING OFFICER SAFETY

The Memorial Fund serves as a national clearinghouse for information and statistics on law enforcement line-of-duty deaths, maintaining a comprehensive database detailing the circumstances of these fatalities and publishing Fatality Reports that identify trends and factors related to officer fatalities. Memorial Fund staff make safety presentations at law enforcement conferences and expos, design and disseminate collateral to convey current safety tactics and practices and works with its partners to generate and share information to improve safety and save lives.

INCREASING PUBLIC SUPPORT FOR THE LAW ENFORCEMENT PROFESSION

The significant sacrifices and contributions our law enforcement officers make to American society will be saluted by a grateful nation, once again, when the National Law Enforcement Museum opens directly across the street from the Memorial. The Museum will be a world-class institution that will tell the story of law enforcement in America through exhibits, collections, research, education, and online content. In the meantime, the Museum operates “without walls,” bringing public programming and events designed to educate the public about law enforcement tactics and practices.

The Memorial Fund conducts programs that honor officers who valiantly serve their communities including the Officer of the Month Award, Witness to History and Conversations on Law Enforcement panel discussions, and other public outreach efforts. These programs are designed to highlight and share the efforts law enforcement officers perform and to help citizens understand their intricate role in upholding the rule of law that is paramount to a civil society.

NATIONAL POLICE WEEK

National Police Week, which occurs each year during the week in which May 15 (National Peace Officers Memorial Day) falls, recognizes the service and sacrifice of local, state, tribal, territorial and federal law enforcement officers. Established by a joint resolution of Congress in 1962, National Police Week gives special honor to law enforcement officers who have lost their lives in the line of duty for the safety and protection of others, as well as recognizes and thanks officers currently serving communities across America.

National Police Week is a collaborative effort of many organizations dedicated to honoring America's law enforcement community. The Memorial Fund is a principal organizer of National Police Week and hosts a Candlelight Vigil each May 13 to honor the sacrifices of America's law enforcement officers, especially fallen heroes and their families.

Candlelight Vigil

Newly-engraved names of fallen officers are formally dedicated at our annual Candlelight Vigil

During the ceremony, each fallen officer's name is read aloud. Speakers, dignitaries and musicians honor the service and sacrifices made by law enforcement officers, as well as their friends and families.

An estimated 20,000 people attend the Candlelight Vigil each year, and thousands more participate via a live webcast of the ceremony provided by the Memorial Fund through a partnership with Officer.com.

In 2015, newly-seated U.S. Attorney General Loretta Lynch shared remarks, and led the lighting of candles and reading of fallen officers' names during the 27th annual Candlelight Vigil. Department of Homeland Security Secretary Jeh Johnson and National President of Concerns of Police Survivors Madeline Neumann also shared remarks at this annual tribute to officers who have died in the line of duty—a special part of the National Police Week observance in the nation's capital.

United By Light

In 2015, the Memorial Fund continued our United By Light program designed to share the Candlelight Vigil to a larger audience by webcasting the Vigil. Participants were encouraged to host a vigil viewing event, light a virtual candle and make a donation in honor of a law enforcement officer.

// Those of us who are the leaders have an obligation to the law enforcement officers who work for us, and their families. Though there are no words that we can offer to console, we must say over and over again to our people, we will always be there for you. You will always be part of our family. And we will never forget you or your husband, your wife, father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister who died for us in the line of duty. This must be our obligation and promise to you. //

—Secretary Jeh Johnson,
Department of Homeland Security

Clear Channel Outdoor & iHeartMedia Tribute Campaign

In 2015, the Memorial Fund continued our partnership with Clear Channel Outdoor and iHeartMedia to raise awareness of our nation's fallen officers. The campaign included officer tributes shown on digital billboards and bus shelter displays across the nation. Also included were displays informing viewers about the 27th Annual Candlelight Vigil and encouraging them to light a virtual candle.

iHeartMedia radio stations ran public service announcements (PSAs) informing listeners about National Police Week, the Candlelight Vigil and the United By Light campaign.

The campaign kicked-off with a press conference in Times Square with many dignitaries, agency representatives and family members of many of the fallen officers from the New York (NY) Police Department.

Police Unity Tour

The journey is long and challenging, but it is something Police Unity Tour participants strive for throughout the entire year. Through fundraising and physical training, their efforts remind us of the sacrifices made by so many law enforcement officers.

In May of 1997, Patrick Montuore—who later became Chief of the Florham Park (NJ) Police Department—arrived in Washington, DC, with 17 other riders and their donation of $18,000.

Eighteen years later, 1,900 Police Unity Tour participants—cyclists, motor patrols, and support personnel—completed their journey, raised awareness and donated a record-breaking gift of $1.97 million to the Memorial Fund!

It's a tradition for Police Unity Tour riders to wear bracelets engraved with the name of the officer to whom they dedicate their ride. After their arrival at the Memorial, many riders present these remembrance bracelets, worn through the whole journey, to the families of these fallen officers.

// I had been a long time supporter of the PUT fundraising efforts in my local area, never having a direct connection to the tour. On April 1, 2014, my brother, a motor officer in Massachusetts, died while on duty and my whole life changed. A PUT fundraising dinner was just a couple of days after and not only did they honor my brother that night, they let me know they were there for my family and I as well.

I rode in my first tour in 2015, the year my brother's name was added to the wall. It was the most incredible experience! I will continue to ride in honor of his memory for as long as I am able. //

OFFICER OF THE MONTH AWARD

*Devotion to Duty. Exemplary Service.
American Heroes.*

To recognize the heroes who distinguish themselves each and every day through exemplary service, heroic actions and devotion to duty, the Memorial Fund created the Officer of the Month Award program in September 1996. Each month, a deserving officer (or set of officers) who have gone above and beyond the call of duty are selected as recipients of this award.

In addition to recognition in their own communities, Officer of the Month Award winners are honored at a special luncheon each May in Washington, DC, during National Police Week. They are also featured on the Memorial Fund's website, social media, and in the annual calendar.

LAW ENFORCEMENT APPRECIATION EVENTS

The Memorial Fund continued to partner with professional sports organizations throughout the country and extended its mission beyond the marble walls of the Memorial by reaching out to law enforcement supporters in their communities. These events provided a special partnership that recognized local law enforcement and educated the general public about our mission.

Many events included local law enforcement officers who participated in pre-game ceremonies, such as an Honor Guard's presentation of colors or a performance of the National Anthem. Throughout the events, public service announcements and videos were featured on scoreboards and other displays in and around each facility. Law Enforcement Appreciation Events could not be successful without the support of local law enforcement organizations and our many volunteer Ambassadors and Guardians.

LAW ENFORCEMENT RIDE & RUN TO REMEMBER

On the weekend of October 10-11, 2015, the Memorial Fund held the fifth annual Law Enforcement Ride & Run to Remember—a fun, community-oriented, athletic fundraising event designed to remember the sacrifice and celebrate the service of law enforcement officers and raise awareness and support for the Memorial Fund.

The event included:

- A 55- or 30-mile bicycle ride starting and ending at National Harbor, MD
- A 5K run/walk starting and ending at the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial

Bike riders made their way through Maryland, passing military forts and winding through beautiful park lands—including the Henson Creek Trail—before returning to National Harbor to complete the ride.

Runners passed by the U.S. Capitol and other iconic DC landmarks before making their way back to the Memorial to complete the race.

2015 Participant Comments:

“ Great ride today! Thanks to everybody that help put the ride together and make it a great day! ”

“ An amazing event for an even more amazing cause. ”

“ Thank you for what you do. Stay safe out there. ”

Financing the Museum

With building permits in hand, and designs finalized and approved by all the necessary district and federal agencies, the Memorial Fund set out in 2015 to complete the financing required to begin Museum construction. Since the National Law Enforcement Museum is on federal land, prominently located in the District's historic Judiciary Square, it would only receive final approval from the U.S. Department of the Interior to begin construction when all the funds were available to complete the project. Given these constraints, financing along with the continued capital campaign effort was the best option.

The Memorial Fund sought out an expert in the sale of tax-exempt, non-rated bonds and found a valuable partner in underwriter H. J. Sims, a well-established firm with a fully committed staff dedicated to ensuring a successful and solid financing to build the first national museum to tell the story of American law enforcement.

The bond offering went to market on December 15, 2015, and the successful offer was officially closed on January 27, 2016. The $103,130,000 Revenue Bonds were issued through the District of Columbia under the DC Revenue Bond Program and consisted of three series of non-rated bonds each with unique features. The $48,130,000 Series A Bonds consist of intermediate and long-term instruments with a final maturity in 2049. The $30,000,000 Series B Bonds consist of two terms that will be repaid from capital campaign contributions raised in support of the Museum. The $25,000,000 Series C Bonds are subordinate to the Series A and B Bonds.

A milestone achieved thanks to the valued assistance of the District of Columbia Government, the determined effort of our bond underwriters, H. J. Sims and, of course, the generous support of our donors.

Building Museum Education Programs

The National Law Enforcement Museum continued to grow and expand its education program in 2015. The purpose and goal of these efforts is to build mutual respect and foster greater cooperation between law enforcement and the community. The programs being developed are being created to meet this purpose and goal. These programs will spread the word about the organization and attract school-age visitors to the Museum in the future.

The Museum's education programs will provide programming that is not only educational but fun and entertaining! Along with learning about the content, these programs will provide the necessary tools for students to develop core skills in critical thinking, problem solving, decision making and literacy.

The Museum received a grant from Battelle that will assist in the development of a forensic summer camp program for middle school students. This camp will introduce students to the world of forensic science and investigations. The camp will occur during the summer and reach students that may not have been exposed to forensics science or law enforcement before. Battelle's grant allows DC students who attend Title 1 schools (schools in which 40% of the students are low income and are entitled to the free lunch program) to participate in the camp at no cost. Through this camp the Museum hopes to educate students about the field of law enforcement and continue to foster positive relationships between law enforcement and the community they serve.

Forensic Science

The field of forensic science has recently become very popular as a result of the numerous television shows that depict how forensic science and investigations are conducted. The National Law Enforcement Museum's forensic programs aims to educate K-12 students about the realities of law enforcement and forensic science. The Museum will create programs on different topics in forensics such as fingerprints, impressions, pathology, cyber crimes, and more. These programs will be brought into classrooms as traveling programs in the near future and will be taught to school groups when visiting the Museum when its open.

NATIONAL LAW ENFORCEMENT MUSEUM

2015 In Review

In 2015, the Museum obtained more than 500 new photos, explored an historic prison riot and started a walking tour in Washington, DC. Running a museum, even without a building, can be a hectic effort. Here is a month-by-month look at the objects collected, the programs presented and the overall activities at the National Law Enforcement Museum in 2015.

Drone, 2009

This Falcon fixed-wing drone, a type of Unmanned Aerial Vehicle (UAV), was used by the Mesa County (AZ) Sheriff's Office for search and rescue work. It was one of the first types of drones used in a law enforcement capacity.

January

Man Behind the Desk

The Museum launched its online exhibit about the FBI's first and now controversial Director, J. Edgar Hoover. Acknowledging that Hoover was a complicated individual, it features artifacts from his estate that offer a glimpse into what he was like outside of the office.

February

Cecil Kirk Archive, 1978

In 1976, Washington, DC, Metropolitan Police Officer Cecil Kirk was tasked with providing the U.S. House of Representatives Select Committee on Assassinations (HSCA) an analysis of the JFK assassination investigation's forensic photography. Kirk provided testimony to the Committee on Lee Harvey Oswald's infamous "backyard photographs," which many in the public had begun to think were fabricated. Through his work and testimony, Kirk and his team confirmed the authenticity of these photos.

March

Attica: Beyond the Riot

Former Attica Prison Guards Michael Smith and Donald Almeter recounted their harrowing experiences as hostages during the Attica prison riot in 1971. The program explored why the riot started, what happened during the unrest, and how the legacy of the prison riot affects correctional work today.

Tribute from the Memorial

This is one of many tribute objects left at the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial during National Police Week 2015. It is now a permanent part of the Museum collection along with many other tributes collected from the Memorial. Many of these tributes will be featured on a rotating basis in the Museum's Hall of Remembrance.

May

2015 World Police and Fire Games

The Museum hosted a photo booth at the World Police and Fire Games in Reston, Virginia. Visitors took pictures with fun props and told us why they were thankful for law enforcement. Over 12,000 public safety athletes from 70 different countries participated in the games.

On April 15, 1974, members of the Symbionese Liberation Army (SLA), including the kidnapped Patty Hearst, robbed a branch of the Hibernia Bank in San Francisco, CA. A collection of almost 500 black and white still images printed from video footage of the robbery record the event in great detail.

July

Sniper Loan to Newseum

The pair known as the DC Snipers terrorized the Washington, DC area in 2002 using this .223mm semi-automatic rifle, killing 10 people and critically injuring 3. The National Law Enforcement Museum loaned the rifle to the Newseum for its "Inside Today's FBI" exhibit.

August

Frank Canton Document, 1896

Document signed and partially filled out by famous Oklahoma lawman Frank M. Canton. A former criminal, Canton later served as a lawman in Oklahoma (including a stint as deputy U.S. Marshal for "Hanging Judge" Isaac Parker). Canton helped wipe out the Dalton gang, and outdrew and killed desperado Bill Dunn.

Witness to History: Boston Marathon Bombing

The Boston Marathon Bombing in 2013 was a devastating act of domestic terrorism that rocked the nation.

The investigation, led by the FBI Boston field office, quickly caught the bombers. FBI Special Agent in Charge Richard DesLauriers, Watertown (MA) Police Department Sgt. John MacLellan and U.S. District Attorney Carmen Ortiz talked about their experiences.

2015 Officer Fatalities

The Memorial Fund continued to place emphasis on using the wealth of data collected about officer fatalities to improve officer safety. The organization received more than 300 requests from media, and hundreds more from law enforcement departments and organizations, interested in citing or otherwise using the data in efforts to keep officers safe.

The Memorial Fund’s Officer Safety, Wellness and Research Department increased its efforts by developing and managing grant partnerships that have a positive impact in the officer safety arena. Efforts include programs designed to reduce traffic-related and firearms-related fatalities.

According to data compiled by the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund, 123 law enforcement officers were killed in the line of duty in 2015, a five percent increase from 2014, when 117 officers lost their lives.

Forty-eight officers were killed in traffic-related incidents in 2015, and forty-one officers were killed in firearms-related incidents. Firearms-related fatalities decreased 15 percent from 2014 when 48 officers were killed.

Deaths from job-related illnesses, such as heart attacks, increased in 2015 with 22 officer deaths compared to 18 in 2014.

In 2015, 66 officers were feloniously killed compared to 60 the prior year, a 10 percent increase. Sixty-seven officers were killed in non-felonious incidents in 2015, compared to 57 the prior year.

Recently Fallen

The Memorial Fund continued its work to raise awareness of law enforcement fatalities by distributing Recently Fallen alerts. Any time there is a reported law enforcement fatality, the Memorial Fund disseminates information about the officer(s) via email alerts, social media and website updates.

The Memorial Fund worked with the Department of Justice's Office of Community Oriented Policing Services to expand and enhance our Recently Fallen program. Efforts included enhancing the content provided in the alerts, changing the layout and information included for each Recently Fallen alert and acquiring new subscribers to the free alerts program.

Destination Zero

The Destination Zero program is designed to help agencies improve the health and safety of law enforcement officers across the country, from agent to correctional officer, from trooper to patrolman, from sheriff to constable. The primary goal of the Destination Zero program is to create a platform that provides all U.S. law enforcement agencies with the ability to research successful and/or promising officer safety and wellness programs and identify the resources necessary to begin their own risk management initiatives.

The Destination Zero program is proud to recognize officer safety and officer wellness programs that proactively engage employees in initiatives that increase overall officer wellness and/or reduce line-of-duty injuries or deaths. Each year, awards are presented in four categories.

Officer Safety Partnerships

The Memorial Fund continued its partnerships with the Department of Justice (DOJ) on programs designed to improve officer safety. Working with the DOJ's Bureau of Justice Assistance office, the Memorial Fund promoted the VALOR program. This program is a comprehensive effort that includes classroom and web-based training, research and resources for sworn local, state, tribal, territorial and federal law enforcement officers. The Memorial Fund promotes the VALOR program on its website and social media, as well as creating and sharing research bulletins, presentations, graphics and publications related to VALOR and officer safety.

The National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund and the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) partnered to promote law enforcement officer safety on the roadways. The Memorial Fund's work with NHTSA includes the creation and distribution of research bulletins, safety presentations and promotion of our Drive Safely program, which provides important traffic safety information geared toward the law enforcement community and the general public via the Memorial Fund's website, e-newsletters, social media and mail outreach channels.

A graphic with a dark background and a blue-tinted image of a police officer. The text reads: "Our mission in VALOR is to protect those who protect us." and "www.ValorForBlue.org". Below this, it says: "VALOR training is designed to help prevent violence against law enforcement officers and ensure officer resilience and survivability following violent encounters during the course of duties. To learn more about VALOR training and to find a list of upcoming training sessions, visit ValorForBlue.org." At the bottom, it features the BJA logo and the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund logo with the text "www.LawMemorial.org".

USING YOUR INVESTMENTS WISELY

The charts below illustrate a breakdown of our 2015 financial information, demonstrating the operating efficiency of the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund.

Groups and individuals often look at the financial information when making judgments about a non-profit organization. It should be noted that the Memorial Fund is currently conducting a capital campaign to build the National Law Enforcement Museum. Funds raised for the National Law Enforcement Museum must be put in a separate account to be used only for that purpose.

Total Assets $71,418,067

Expenses $17,086,566

Liabilities & Net Assets $71,418,067

Support & Revenue $18,785,574

NOTE: The 2015 provision for doubtful promises to give was $602,580.
