We™ve been hearing from our educator community that it™s simply not enough to have occasional conversations about safety and digital civility and that they™d greatly benefit from a structured curriculum and project-based learning as the new school year begins and kids are spending more and more time learning and interacting with one another online, said Laura Higgins, Director of Community Safety and Digital Civility at ROBLOX. The curriculum launching today is designed to provide both educators and students with a self-paced, topic-specific narrative that will help build a generation of resilient digital citizens and ensure kids and teens have positive and safe online experiences.

Over the past year, ROBLOX has reached more than one million students worldwide through its education initiatives including camps, coding challenges, and school curriculum resources. In March 2020, ROBLOX released educational tools through the Teaching Remotely Initiative to aid in remote teaching and learning. In June 2020, ROBLOX launched its semi-annual coding challenge Build It, Play It, (formerly known as the Creator Challenge), which was the company™s most successful event to date with over 7 million game visits and more than 210,000 games published. With today™s announcement, the company continues to deliver resources to students and teachers designed to complement continued remote learning or hybrid learning models this fall.

Let TMs get to know more about this.
