A game that has grown in popularity in recent years is ROBLOX; that means plenty of memes to go along with the growing fan base. The best part about them is that they don't always have to make complete sense as that is the beauty of the game itself. Some poke fun at the game while others choose to laugh at the shenanigans that happen within it.

Twitter user @TKSTerebiGamer shows exactly what so many have gone through. The other player doesn't even offer to help, which is typical behavior and any ROBLOX player will find the hilarity in this sentiment.

We've been hearing from our educator community that it's simply not enough to have occasional conversations about safety and digital civility and that they'd greatly benefit from a structured curriculum and project-based learning as the new school year begins and kids are spending more and more time learning and interacting with one another online, said Laura Higgins, Director of Community Safety and Digital Civility at ROBLOX. The curriculum launching today is designed to provide both educators and students with a self-paced, topic-specific narrative that will help build a generation of resilient digital citizens and ensure kids and teens have positive and safe online experiences.
