Our Minecoins Hack is now available - Generate Minecraft Coins for free

This tool will only be available for a limited amount of time. We know the frustration caused by the human verification process but you should understand that is a very important security feature that prevents everyone from abusing the free minecoins generator in a way that would alert the developers and get their system patched rendering the web-based tool useless. To prevent detecting and eventual patching we decided to ask you to complete a simple manual verification just to make sure that you are a player really trying to use our website.

Get free Minecoins today! Working on all platforms

Our generator is globally available. It doesn't matter on which gaming platform you are playing, xbox, PC, Playstation 4, portable version or other. Our tool is able to generate unlimited amounts of free coins for everyone that follows its instructions.

What are minecoins and how to get them ?

Minecoins are a form of currency used exclusively to purchase content in the Minecraft store. The only way to get them is to buy them for real money. You can't purchase or use them within the game. Users should be ware of websites or apps that promise free ways to get Minecoins, as they can lead to scams or security bouts. Check out how to purchase Minecoins in the right way.

Getting coins in Minecraft is possible in a few steps. The game features a content store full of extras where users can purchase new features in exchange for "Minecoin" or "Tokens" coins on PlayStation 4. This content is created by both other players and third-party companies, such as Pac-Man packs, and may include new characters, modes, textures, and worlds. In the following tutorial, check out how to buy Minecoin coins to spend in the Minecraft store for Xbox One, PlayStation 4 (PS4), Nintendo Switch, Android, iPhone (iOS) and PC.

The Minecraft Store was added in 2017 with the game's "Better Together" update, which unified all minecraft platforms available at the time into only one version, the "Bedrock Edition", with multiplayer between them. Content purchased with Minecoins can be used on all platforms where the Bedrock version is released, as long as the user connects a Microsoft account – which is where their purchases are tied. Initially, the PS4 was left out of the "Better Together" update, but after some time it joined the other consoles with a currency of its own.
