Pacific University

At Pacific University students study in a unique combination of undergraduate, graduate and professional programs in the liberal arts and sciences, business, education, health professions and optometry. Our breadth of offerings provides students a rich atmosphere of discovery, as well as pathways to graduate programs and meaningful careers.

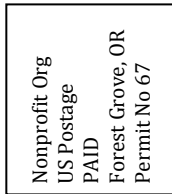

Located in Oregon, Pacific serves a diverse population of more than 3,600 students, particularly from the Pacific Northwest and Hawai'i, with campuses in Forest Grove, Hillsboro, Eugene and Woodburn, as well as offices in Portland and Honolulu. Healthcare clinics throughout the greater Portland area also serve patients and provide practical experience for students.
