Generator Transformation: The Color of Envelopment

It's always very exciting for me to talk about Generators. If it weren't for my understanding of the potential of Generators, I don't think I ever would have had the courage to do the work that had to be done to get the knowledge out. It was Generators that gave me hope. There was this part of me that looked out at the not-self world and wondered why there would be such an irony of trying to shatter all of that dysfunction. The very idea of Generator, it just seemed like all those stories about how much gold is in the ocean. All you have to do is figure out just how to get there. And there were all these Generators, all this incredible life force totally dysfunctional, entirely not-self, and the byproduct was the world that I had to live in. It seemed to me that all I had to do was wait along my fractal line for those Generators to come into my life and to transform them.

Oh, the horror of the not-self. I don't think that there is anything easier. Well, let's say simpler, it's better language. I don't think there's anything simpler than responding. It's so perfect. It's everything that every Eastern philosopher has ever tried to teach anyone, ever. It is the perfection of mechanical surrender. It is an absolute—it's so perfect, and it's so difficult to get that across. It's so perfect. It is this enormous vanity that we have, that we have to be in control of our lives. It is an incredible vanity, and it is the sickness of the not-self. The not-self does not want to surrender, doesn't want to surrender to, "Uh-huh." It's not what it wants, and that's what everybody lives.

The Generator Aura

This perfection, because it's perfection—I mean, everything about life is that it delivers, not that we take. Generators are the metaphor of the most profound and deepest spiritual understanding of being. They are the essence of being. I'm going to show you that through auras. They're the essence of being. With the minor exception of Reflectors, without them there's nothing. I mean, there's nothing, they take us all in. If you look at these aura Types [next page] and you look at the Generator Type, and you see that the Generator Type is open and enveloping, think about what the aura really is. In the illustration, you have this spiraling down to the G Center to the Magnetic Monopole, to this absolutely extraordinary thing. This is the great projecting machine; it projects a life. It holds together that illusion of separateness and it holds together the energy field. But the energy field is held together beyond what is the illusion of the surface, what we call our aura.

AURA TYPES

Manifestor

Closed/Repelling

Generator

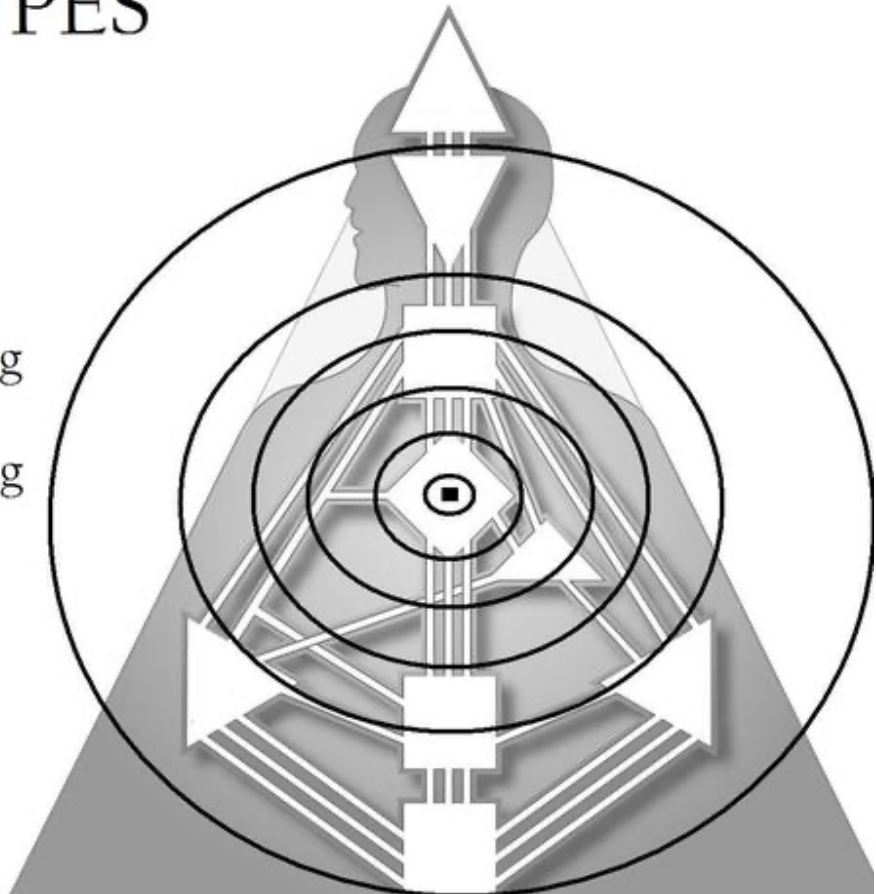

Open/Enveloping

Projector

Focused/Absorbing

Reflector

Resistant/Sampling

The aura is the extremity of the pull of the personal Magnetic Monopole to hold you together in your illusion, and the Generator aura is the most porous of all the auras. I could never understand why it was so damn difficult to wake up Generators. It would seem simple; all you have to do is respond. Oh yeah, I know that there are dilemmas attached with all of that, but at the same time, all it calls for is to experiment. And being the archetypal energy Type, the experiment can yield results almost instantaneously. What gets in the way? It is the very aura.

The Builders of the World

Not only are Generators an archetype of what life is, but they are also the most giving of life. They bring the breath of life into each and every one of us, which is why it's such a tragedy that they're so fucked up. It's just one of those great tragedies. They are the life force. And we know that we live in a binary. It's very easy to figure out what the other side is, how disastrous it is. Just look at the world around you. The world around you is not the fault of the Program. The world around you is the direct byproduct of every Generator on this planet's life. The rest of us, us non-Generators, just live off the field. It's the Generators that create this world.

This mystical name for Generators as builders, well, they do every breath. One of the most extraordinary things for me about understanding what a Generator is and seeing clearly that the distortion that is there on the planet is that it's all about the Generator. And it's not about blame or fault. There's no choice in that. They carry the burden, because after all, in not operating correctly, they create a world that is so difficult for them to operate in anyway. It's not like everybody else is the victim.

There is this cosmic, ironic masochism in it all. It's so difficult to stop initiating with this not-self mind. And here you have this aura that is so open and porous. It envelops, it takes everything in. So the Generator, as a counterpoint to the simplicity and perfection of its correctness, has to deal with the deepest penetration of the other. Nobody gets conditioned more deeply than Generators. The other side of being the life force is that what you envelop you take in, in a very deep way.

If we look at the other auras, if you look at the other energy Type, the Manifestor, you see that the Manifestor has a closed and repelling aura. It is closed to the Generator. I will show you how that works. It's very strange because the Generator always envelops. If you look at the Reflector, you see that the Reflector is resistant. As a matter of fact, Reflectors don't live off Generators, they live off the Program, but they are a minority. And when you're dealing with Projectors, nobody penetrates the Generator deeper. We all know the Generator projections about each other. Sometimes I find it very amusing; other times I get slightly concerned. Here is the ultimate relationship and it's fraught with dilemmas because it is so deeply conditioning.
