

The best Lower East Side art galleries

Looking for the best contemporary art galleries on the Lower East Side? We have six must-visit venues right here.

JTT

TIME OUT SAYS

Dealer Jasmin Tsou, a veteran of Maccarone and Kimmerich galleries, as well as Karma, the West Village bookshop and gallery, started this LES showcase for emerging and under-appreciated artists in 2012 with money she raised at the NADA art fair in Miami where she'd mounted a small project booth. The success of the gallery since then has meant that its roster of artists (among them, Jamian Juliano-Villani, Cole Sayer and Becky Kolsrud) are no longer under-appreciated.

POSTED: TUESDAY SEPTEMBER 30 2014

WHAT'S ON

ART

Cole Sayer, "Wicked"

Trompe l'oeil for the age of Photoshop and CGI might be one way to describe this Brooklyn artist's work, whose paintings and sculptures employ peek-a-boo surface effects to create optical...

