

ARTIFEX PRESS

Dear Collector,

I am contacting you regarding ongoing research for the catalogue raisonné of Jim Dine's sculpture. Commissioned by Artifex Press, a digital catalogue raisonné publishing company, the first volume of this digital publication, which covers the years 1983 to the present, was initially published in 2013 and is available at www.artifexpress.com. We are continuing the project by maintaining and updating the catalogue.

I would greatly appreciate if you could assist us by filling out the enclosed worksheet with the details of the artist's sculptures in your collection or previously owned by you. Kindly designate your preferred collection credit as you would like it to appear in the catalogue. I assure you that any information you provide will be kept strictly confidential upon request. I have also included an image registration form as we would welcome additional views of the works in your collection. Our preferred image size is outlined on the form, but we are grateful for any images you are willing to share.

In addition to tracking the provenance of sculptures already included in the catalogue, we are expanding the catalogue in other ways. We supplemented the first volume of the catalogue with additional editorial material, including a series of videos of the artist discussing his sculptural process produced by Artifex Press. We have been adding new artworks created in 2013 and beyond, and we will continue to collect information on sculptures created from 1959-1983. Please complete the attached forms if you have further ownership information on sculptures from any date.

At this time, we are only accepting submissions via email as we are primarily working remotely. Please use sdavidson@artifexpress.com to return the attached form.

Thank you for your consideration and participation in the ongoing life of Jim Dine's sculpture catalogue raisonné.

With best regards,

Sara K. Davidson
