Cutting-Edge Issues in Audiology: Assessment and Treatment

INTRODUCTION
This course includes five recorded sessions from the online conference “Audiology 2017: Cutting-Edge Perspectives in Service Delivery for Older Adults.” These sessions present assessment and intervention strategies for older patients. The conference included a total of 17 sessions, with the broad goal of presenting audiologists with innovative approaches to managing hearing loss and improving service delivery for older adults.

LEARNING OUTCOMES
You will be able to:
- Discuss the aspects of neural speech encoding that may be malleable with training and/or the use of hearing aids
- Describe current best-practices regarding interventions for age-related hearing loss and the potential for new targeted treatments via device and medicinal interventions
- Outline a plan for implementing a group aural rehabilitation program
- Describe a care path using an interprofessional, collaborative model for managing patients with tinnitus
- Recognize potential CI candidates in your older patients
