PRESENTER BIO

Kathy J. Wheat, PhD, CCC-SLP, is a director/professor for the Oklahoma City Community College (OCCC) SLPA program and received degrees from the University of Oklahoma, University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center, and University of Science and Arts of Oklahoma. She has practiced as an SLP in school, outpatient, hospital, private practice, and home health settings. She is also employed as an SLP/department chair for a large Oklahoma school district. Wheat began working with SLPA in Oklahoma in 1998 and partnered with a colleague to start the OCCC SLPA program. She worked with the state education agency, state licensing board, and state association to make the necessary changes for successful implementation of SLPA in school and health care settings. She serves the Oklahoma Speech-Language Hearing Association as school issues co-chair and Oklahoma State Education Advocate (S.E.A.L.). Wheat was the former chair for the ASHA School Finance Committee and is newly appointed to the Oklahoma City Community College Special Education IDEA-B State Advisory Panel. She has experience and teaches others about working successfully with SLPA in various settings for positive client outcomes.

Financial Disclosures:

- Employee of Oklahoma City Community College and Lawton Public Schools
- Financial compensation from ASHA for this presentation

Nonfinancial Disclosures:

- Oklahoma Speech-Language Hearing Association School Issues Co-Chair
- Oklahoma Special Education IDEA-B State Advisory Panel Member
- ASHA State Education Advocacy Leader for Oklahoma
- Consultant to school districts regarding utilization of SLPA
- Speaks at state and national conferences on supervision of support personnel