FACULTY

Leisha R. Eiten, AuD, CCC-A, is the associate director of audiology at Boys Town National Research Hospital. She has served on task forces to develop Pediatric Amplification Guidelines and Remote Microphone HAT guidelines. She is a past president of the Nebraska Speech-Language-Hearing Association (NSLHA) and is a current member of NSLHA’s Insurance and Reimbursement Committee. She is currently a member of ASHA’s Health Care Economics Committee (HCEC) and serves as ASHA’s audiology representative to the AMA’s Relative Value Update Committee (RUC) Health Care Professionals Advisory Committee (HCPAC).

Financial Disclosures
- Associate Director of Audiology at Boys Town National Research Hospital
- Travel reimbursement from ASHA in her capacity as an HCEC member
- Financial compensation from ASHA for this presentation

Nonfinancial Disclosures
- Member of ASHA’s HCEC
- ASHA’s audiology representative to the American Medical Association’s Health Care Professionals Advisory Committee for the Relative Value Update Committee
- Member of Insurance and Reimbursement Committee of the Nebraska Speech-Language-Hearing Association

Stuart Trembath, MA, CCC-A, received his bachelor of arts degree in speech and hearing science from Michigan State University and his master of arts degree in audiology from Northwestern University. His past work history includes a hospital setting (Cook County Hospital in Chicago), as well as an educational setting (Northern Trails Area Education Agency in Iowa). He is a co-owner of Hearing Associates, PC, in Mason City, Iowa. Hearing Associates, PC, has grown from a two-audiologist practice in 1987 to a six-audiologist practice today. Trembath is a past president of the Iowa Speech-Language and Hearing Association and is currently the chair of ASHA’s Health Care Economics Committee (HCEC) and is ASHA’s advisor to the American Medical Association’s Current Procedural Terminology Editorial Panel.
Financial Disclosures
- Owner of Hearing Associates, PC
- Financial compensation from ASHA for this presentation
- Travel reimbursement from ASHA in his capacity as HCEC member

Nonfinancial Disclosures
- Co-chair of ASHA’s Health Care Economics Committee
- ASHA’s representative to the American Medical Association’s Health Care Professionals Advisory Committee for the Current Procedural Terminology Editorial Panel