DISCLOSURES

Financial Disclosures
This research was supported by an NIDCD grant. Jonathan L. Preston received travel reimbursement as the chair of the Speech Sound Disorders subcommittee for the ASHA convention in 2016. He also received travel reimbursement for serving as a mentor for the Pathways program in 2016 and 2017. He received meal reimbursement as a CPRI awardee in 2017. Megan C. Leece reports no financial relationships to the content of this article.

Nonfinancial Disclosures
Jonathan L. Preston served as a member of the Speech Sound Disorders subcommittee for the ASHA annual convention from 2014-2018 (chair in 2016). He served as a mentor for the Pathways program through ASHA for two individuals who conduct research on speech sound disorders. Megan C. Leece served as a member of the Speech Sound Disorders subcommittee for the ASHA annual convention in 2016.

Financial Disclosures
Elaine R. Hitchcock, Tara McAllister Byun, Michelle Swartz, and Roberta Lazarus report no financial relationships to the content of this article.

Nonfinancial Disclosures
Elaine R. Hitchcock, Tara McAllister Byun, Michelle Swartz, and Roberta Lazarus report no nonfinancial relationships to the content of this article.

Financial Disclosures
Tara McAllister Byun received grant funding from the American Speech-Language-Hearing Foundation and has grant funding pending from the National Institute on Deafness and Other Communication Disorders. Heather Campbell, Helen Carey, Wendy Liang, Tae Hong Park, and Mario Svirsky report no financial relationships to the content of this article.
Nonfinancial Disclosures
Heather Campbell's lab at New York University is developing the staRt (“Speech Therapists' App for /r/ Treatment”) app, and this study is the first pilot participant using the app. Wendy Liang is an ASHA member. Tara McAllister Byun, Helen Carey, Tae Hong Park, and Mario Svirsky report no nonfinancial relationships to the content of this article.

The Effect of Hand Gesture Cues Within the Treatment of /r/ for a College-Aged Adult With Persisting Childhood Apraxia of Speech, by Heather Leavy Rusiewicz and Jessica Lynch Rivera, published in American Journal of Speech-Language Pathology

Financial Disclosures
Heather Leavy Rusiewicz and Jessica Lynch Rivera report no financial relationships to the content of this article.

Nonfinancial Disclosures
Heather Leavy Rusiewicz and Jessica Lynch Rivera report no nonfinancial relationships to the content of this article.