DISCLOSURES

User-Innovated eHealth Solutions for Service Delivery to Older Persons With Hearing Impairment, by Annette Cleveland Nielsen, Sergi Rotger-Griful, Anne Marie Kanstrup, and Ariane Laplante-Lévesque, published in American Journal of Audiology

Financial Disclosures
This research was supported by funding to Eriksholm Research Centre from the Ministry of Higher Education and Science, the Danish Agency for Science and Innovation. Ariane Laplante-Lévesque is employed by a hearing device manufacturer. Annette Cleveland Nielsen, Sergi Rotger-Griful, and Anne Marie Kanstrup report no additional financial relationships to the content of this article.

Nonfinancial Disclosures
Annette Cleveland Nielsen, Sergi Rotger-Griful, Anne Marie Kanstrup, and Ariane Laplante-Lévesque report no nonfinancial relationships to the content of this article.

Long-Term Efficacy of Audiologist-Guided Internet-Based Cognitive Behavior Therapy for Tinnitus, by Eldré W. Beukes, Peter M. Allen, David M. Baguley, Vinaya Manchaiah, and Gerhard Andersson, published in American Journal of Audiology

Financial Disclosures
Eldré W. Beukes, Peter M. Allen, David M. Baguley, Vinaya Manchaiah, and Gerhard Andersson report no financial relationships to the content of this article.

Nonfinancial Disclosures
David M. Baguley is the president of the British Tinnitus Association. Eldré W. Beukes, Peter M. Allen, Vinaya Manchaiah, and Gerhard Andersson report no nonfinancial relationships to the content of this article.

Financial Disclosures
De Wet Swanepoel is a scientific advisor to the hearX Group, with interests including consultation and equity. David R. Moore is a scientific advisor and shareholder for hearX Ltd as well as a scientific advisor for Otonomy Inc. He was a recipient of an NIH grant that contributed to this research. Karina C. De Sousa and Cas Smits report no financial relationships to the content of this article.

Nonfinancial Disclosures
Karina C. De Sousa, De Wet Swanepoel, David R. Moore, and Cas Smits report no nonfinancial relationships to the content of this article.

Financial Disclosures
This research was funded by the UK National Institute for Health Research (NIHR) Nottingham Biomedical Research Centre (BRC). The views expressed are those of the authors and not necessarily those of the UK National Health Service (NHS), the NIHR, or the UK Department of Health and Social Care. Portions of this research note were presented at the 3rd International Internet & Audiology Meeting, Louisville, KY, July 2017, funded by grants from the National Institute on Deafness and Other Communication Disorders and the Oticon Foundation. Starkey Hearing Technologies, UK, provided devices free-of-charge for the purposes of the research. David W. Maidment was employed by the University of Nottingham, UK, during the period of this research. Melanie Ferguson received funding from the National Institute of Hearing Research.

Nonfinancial Disclosures
Melanie Ferguson is a member of the American Academy of Audiology Strategic Documents Committee and co-lead for the Mental Health and Hearing Loss Managed Innovation Network. During the period of this research, she was a member of the NICE Guideline Committee on Hearing Loss, and Dept. of Health Action Plan on Hearing Loss R&D and Data Quality Assurance Task and Finish Groups. She was the chair of the British Society of Audiology Adult Rehabilitation Special Interest Group, a member of the Ida Institute International Research Committee, chair and member of the British Society of Audiology Annual Conference Committee, a member of the American Academy of Audiology Honors Committee, and a BSA Council member. David W. Maidment reports no nonfinancial relationships to the content of this article.

Financial Disclosures
The research presented in this article was supported by a European Union’s Horizon 2020 Research and Innovation programme grant. Johanna Gutenberg is employed as an eHealth researcher at the Eriksholm Research Centre, Oticon A/S, Snekkersten, Denmark. Panagiotis Katrakazas is employed as a junior researcher at the Biomedical Engineering Laboratory, Institute of Communication and Computer Systems, National Technical University of Athens, Greece. Lyubov Trenkova is employed by Pazardzhik Regional Administration, Bulgaria. Dario Brdarić is an employee of the Institute of Public Health for the Osijek-Baranya County, Osijek, Croatia. Nina Koloutsou is an MPhil student at CITY University. Katherine Ploumidou is employed as an otolaryngologist for Athens Medical Center, Athens, Greece. Niels Henrik Pontoppidan is employed as a research area manager for augmented hearing at Eriksholm Research Centre, Oticon A/S, Snekkersten, Denmark. Ariane Laplante-Lévesque is employed by a hearing device manufacturer. Louisa Murdin reports no additional financial relationships to the content of this article.

Nonfinancial Disclosures
Johanna Gutenberg, Panagiotis Katrakazas, Lyubov Trenkova, Louisa Murdin, Dario Brdarić, Nina Koloutsou, Katherine Ploumidou, Niels Henrik Pontoppidan, and Ariane Laplante-Lévesque report no nonfinancial relationships to the content of this article.