DISCLOSURES

Recent Innovations in Voice Assessment Expected to Impact the Clinical Management of Voice Disorders
Jarrad H. Van Stan
Center for Laryngeal Surgery & Voice Rehabilitation, Massachusetts General Hospital
Communication Sciences and Disorders, Massachusetts General Hospital
Boston, MA
Institute of Health Professions
Charlestown, MA
Daryush D. Mehta
Center for Laryngeal Surgery & Voice Rehabilitation, Massachusetts General Hospital
Boston, MA
Department of Surgery, Harvard Medical School
Boston, MA
Communication Sciences and Disorders, MGH Institute of Health Professions
Charlestown, MA
Robert E. Hillman
Center for Laryngeal Surgery & Voice Rehabilitation, Massachusetts General Hospital
Boston, MA
Department of Surgery, Harvard Medical School
Boston, MA
Communication Sciences and Disorders, MGH Institute of Health Professions
Charlestown, MA

Disclosures:
Financial: Robert E. Hillman has a financial interest in the Ambulatory Phonation Monitor based on a contractual agreement between Sensimetrics, Inc. (R&D for the initial version of the Ambulatory Phonation Monitor) and KayPENTAX, Inc. (manufacturer of the Ambulatory Phonation Monitor). Jarrad H. Van Stan and Daryush D. Mehta have no financial interests to disclose.

Practical Acoustics in Clinical Voice Assessment: A Praat Primer
Youri Maryn
Department of Otorhinolaryngology and Head & Neck Surgery, Sint-Augustinus General Hospital, European Institute of ORL-HNS
Antwerp, Belgium
Department of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology, University College Ghent
Ghent, Belgium
Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences, University of Antwerp
Antwerp, Belgium

Disclosures:
Financial: Youri Maryn has a financial interest in a website-based company that sells information described in this manuscript.
Nonfinancial: Youri Maryn has no relevant nonfinancial interests to disclose.

Making a Case for Transmasculine Voice and Communication Training
Christie Block
Owner and Clinical Speech-Language Pathologist, New York Speech & Voice Lab
New York, NY

Disclosures:
Financial: Christie Block has no relevant financial interests to disclose.
Nonfinancial: Christie Block has no relevant nonfinancial interests to disclose.
The Role of the Veterinary Pathologist in Voice Research

Abigail Durkes
Department of Comparative Pathobiology, Purdue University
West Lafayette, IN

Disclosures:
Financial: Abigail Durkes has no relevant financial interests to disclose.
Nonfinancial: Abigail Durkes has no relevant nonfinancial interests to disclose.