Auditory Verbal Therapy: A Family-Centered Listening and Spoken Language Intervention for Children With Hearing Loss and Their Families
Elizabeth A. Rosenzweig
Deaf Education, Teacher's College, Columbia University
New York, NY

Disclosures
Financial: Elizabeth A. Rosenzweig has no relevant financial interests to disclose.
Nonfinancial: Elizabeth A. Rosenzweig has no relevant nonfinancial interests to disclose.

Parent-Professional Partnerships: Managing Behavior to Increase Hearing Aid Use
Elizabeth Preston
Department of Communication Disorders, Utah State University
Michael Twohig
Department of Psychology, Utah State University
Karen Muñoz
Department of Communicative Disorders, Utah State University
Logan, UT

Disclosures
Financial: Elizabeth Preston, Michael Twohig, and Karen Muñoz have no relevant financial interests to disclose.
Nonfinancial: Elizabeth Preston, Michael Twohig, and Karen Muñoz have no relevant nonfinancial interests to disclose.

Reducing Vulnerability to Bullying for Children and Youth who are Deaf and Hard of Hearing
Carrie L. Spangler
Summit Educational Service Center
Cuyahoga Falls, OH
Cheryl DeConde Johnson
The ADEvantage Consulting
Leadville, CO

Disclosures
Financial: Carrie L. Spangler and Cheryl DeConde Johnson have no relevant financial interests to disclose.
Nonfinancial: Carrie L. Spangler and Cheryl DeConde Johnson have no relevant nonfinancial interests to disclose.

Auditory Processing Disorder and Effective Outcome Measures: Professional Reports from the Workplace
Lauren A. Casady
Alisha L. Jones
Aurora J. Weaver
Department of Communication Disorders, Auburn University
Auburn, AL

Disclosures
Financial: Lauren A. Casady, Alisha L. Jones, and Aurora J. Weaver have no relevant financial interests to disclose.
Nonfinancial: This work formed Lauren A. Casady’s Capstone research project in partial fulfillment of her doctorate of Audiology Degree requirements. Alisha L. Jones and Aurora J. Weaver have no relevant nonfinancial interests to disclose.