Background:
ASPPH, in collaboration with the Public Health Foundation (PHF), is pleased to present this ASPPH Presents webinar which will focus on the recently revised Core Competencies for Public Health Professionals (Core Competencies) released in June 2014 by the Council on Linkages Between Academia and Public Health Practice.

Speakers:
Kathleen Amos, MLIS, Assistant Director, Council on Linkages Between Academia and Public Health Practice, Public Health Foundation

Jennifer Kolker, MPH, Associate Professor, Associate Dean For Public Health Practice, Drexel University School of Public Health

Kathleen Miner, PhD, MPH, MEd, Associate Dean for Applied Public Health, Emory University Rollins School of Public Health

Marita Murrman, EdD, MS, Associate Professor, Columbia University Mailman School of Public Health

Aims:
This webinar will provide an overview of the 2014 version of the Core Competencies, changes made in this version, how these changes address feedback from the public health community, and resources and tools available to support the use of the Core Competencies. In addition, faculty from Council on Education for Public Health (CEPH) accredited schools of public health will describe how they use the Core Competencies in developing curricula for education in public health, discuss how they use the Core Competencies in designing external trainings for the public health workforce, and provide an overview of how competencies relate to CEPH accreditation.

Participants are encouraged to join the webinar to learn how Core Competencies can be effectively used in academia and training for the workforce.

Target Audiences:
- Faculty of CEPH-accredited schools and programs of public health interested in learning about the Core Competencies and how they can be effectively used to develop curricula and trainings.

Learning Objectives:
After engaging in the webinar, the participant will be able to:
1. Describe the revisions made to the Council on Linkages’ Core Competencies for Public Health Professionals
2. Learn about resources and tools available to support the use of the Core Competencies
3. Understand how the Core Competencies can be used to develop curricula for education in public health
4. Understand how the Core Competencies can be used to develop trainings for the public health workforce

The “ASPPH Presents” Webinar Series is a benefit to CEPH-accredited ASPPH Member schools and programs of public health. The mission of ASPPH is to transform public health by strengthening and promoting the education, research, service and practice activities of CEPH-accredited schools and programs and by advocating for the investment in science needed to advance population health and for evidence-based public health policies and programs. CPH CE credit available.
