

EPA Lead Inspector Training & EPA Lead Risk Assessor Training

Monday, September 28, 2015 - Friday, October 2, 2015

8:00 am - 5:00 pm

Albany Community Development Agency, 200 Henry Johnson Blvd., Albany, NY 12210

Lead Inspector Initial Certification (24 hours)

This Lead Inspector Initial training provides information for individuals who perform lead-based paint inspections and/or clearance examinations on abatement and renovation projects. Instructors will teach the legal obligations facing inspectors when inspecting for lead hazards. Individuals will learn to determine whether or not lead-based paint or other lead hazards are present in sufficient quantities to require abatement according to regulatory guidelines. This training includes hands-on exercises and an exam.

Lead Risk Assessor Initial Certification (16 hours)

This Lead Risk Assessor training provides information for those individuals who wish to perform lead-based paint Risk Assessment or Lead Hazard Screening services. The class meets EPA's training requirements and will prepare students to perform on-site inspection, take samples, determine the severity of lead hazards, and develop options for eliminating those hazards. EPA and state regulations require that an individual wishing to be certified as a Risk Assessor must first successfully complete the Lead Inspector class. This training includes hands-on exercises and an exam.
