Spring 2018

Dear Supporter:

Cornell Cooperative Extension of Steuben County is celebrating our 100th birthday this year, and we are having a huge party on September 14th! Our special evening will be held at Pleasant Valley Winery in Hammondsport, the oldest winery in Steuben County! It will feature a dinner that will be a tour of the farms of Steuben County and plenty of fun dancing to the John Bolger Band.

As part of our Centennial Campaign, we will have a silent auction during our Celebration Event. We are asking if you could provide us with something to feature in one of our baskets – perhaps an item from your gift shop, a gift coupon, or funding to assist with this effort. We would be happy to stop and pick up your donation if necessary.

Cornell Cooperative Extension is a statewide network of non-profit Associations providing hands-on, research-based educational programs for farmers, families and youth to empower them to make apposite difference in their lives and communities. Our programs span every discipline like providing the latest research to assist our farmers with producing the best crops possible, offering financial budgeting assistance to families in need, teaching food stamp recipients how to best stretch their food dollar while eating healthier, and encouraging our youth through 4-H programs to be better citizens. You can view some of our programs on our website at www.PutKnowledgeToWork.org.

Perhaps you would also be interested in attending our event. You can call our office at 607-664-2300 to reserve your space or visit our website at PutKnowledgeToWork.org for a link to purchasing tickets.

Thank you for considering a donation to our auction portion of the event. You can contact Carla Dawejko, Public Affairs Coordinator at crd24@cornell.edu or 607-664-2300 or 607-583-3224 for any further details.

Sincerely,

Larkin Podsiedlik
