4-H Dog Lover's Program for Kids Feb 9

LIBERTY, NY—Sullivan County youth are invited to experience a fun-filled program that's All About Dogs on Friday, February 9, 2018. Cornell Cooperative Extension Sullivan County (CCESC)'s 4-H Youth Development program will offer this class for “dog-crazy kids” from 6:30 to 8:30 pm at its Extension Education Center on 64 Ferndale-Loomis Road in Liberty NY. In the event of inclement weather, the snow date is February 16. Youth do not need to own a dog to participate.

Barbara Moran, CCESC 4-H Animal Science Program Coordinator will present demonstrations in handling and dog training, activities geared toward dog lovers, and a mock dog skill-a-thon!

Cost is $10 per youth. Youth age 5-18 living in Sullivan County are encouraged to join 4-H for free.

Space is limited and registration is required in advance. Registration can be completed by calling CCESC at 845-292-6180, emailing sullivan@cornell.edu, or visiting www.sullivancee.org. Payment can be made in advance by check, cash, or credit.

Program fees support the cost of instructors, refreshments, materials, and facilities. Additional donations for CCESC programs are appreciated.

Cornell Cooperative Extension's 4-H Youth Development program empowers youth ages 5-18 to reach their full potential, working and learning in partnership with caring adults. 4-H members have opportunities to connect to Cornell University resources and gain career readiness skills through hands-on activities and “learning by doing”.
