Youth Dog Obedience Class Returns June 1

LIBERTY, NY—Youth with an interest in learning tips and tricks to set their dog up for success can attend a Building Basic Dog Obedience workshop Friday June 1, 2018. Cornell Cooperative Extension Sullivan County (CCESC)'s 4-H Youth Development program is offering this hands-on educational opportunity from 6:30 to 8:00 pm at the Extension Education Center on 64 Ferndale-Loomis Road in Liberty. 4-H programs are always open to non-members.

Participants will experience demonstrations in handling, dog training, and activities for dog lovers! NO DOGS NEEDED TO PARTICIPATE.

This series is $8 per youth or $5 for 4-H members. Any Sullivan County youth ages 5-18 can apply to enroll in 4-H for free, all year long.

Registration with payment is required in advance by visiting www.sullivancee.org, emailing sullivan@cornell.edu, or calling CCESC at 845-292-6180. Payment can be made in advance by check, cash, or credit. In the event of special needs, the public should contact the CCESC office.

Program fees support the cost of instructors, refreshments, materials, and facilities. Additional donations for CCESC programs are appreciated.

Cornell Cooperative Extension's 4-H Youth Development program empowers any youth ages 5-18 to reach their full potential, working and learning in partnership with caring adults. 4-H members have opportunities to connect to Cornell University resources and gain career readiness skills through hands-on activities and "learning by doing".
