Freezing Bell Peppers

Green, red, yellow and orange bell peppers are abundant this month at farmers’ markets and farm stands. Bell peppers are perfect for freezing to use during the winter in any cooked dish. Bell peppers are an incredible bargain in the summer compared to $4 per pound or more during the winter months.

According to the National Center for Home Food Preservation website (http://nchfp.uga.edu) it is easy to freeze bell peppers.

1. Prepare peppers by selecting crisp, blemish free peppers. Wash, cut out stems, cut in half and remove seeds. Cut into strips, rings or pieces.
2. Place raw, cut peppers in freezer zip top bags or freezer containers, leaving no headspace. Remove air (if using zip top bags), seal and freeze!

During the winter months, use your frozen bell peppers in soups, stews and casseroles. It’s so nice to be able to have peppers available when you want them and to know they are farm fresh and locally grown!

In Season This Month: Lots of Fruits and Vegetables

While visiting your local market, look for these farm fresh fruits and vegetables: green and yellow beans, beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, collard greens, corn, cucumbers, eggplant, lettuce, leeks, mustard greens, onions, peppers, potatoes, radishes, Swiss chard, tomatoes, winter and summer squash, apples, blueberries, cantaloupes, peaches, pears and plums. Don’t forget to use your Farmers’ Market Nutrition coupons, your WIC fruit and vegetable check or EBT card.
While you are at the library enjoying the summer reading program, pick up a copy of “At the Farmers' Market with Kids: Recipes and Projects for Little Hands” by Leslie Jonath. Read the book with your child and decide which recipe you want to make together, then head to the farmers' market to buy the ingredients.
