Youth Winter Workshops Feature Fun, Recycled Gift Ideas

LIBERTY, NY— Youth (age 5-18) are invited to learn new low-cost ideas to craft homemade gifts just in time for the holidays. Cornell Cooperative Extension Sullivan County (CCESC)'s 4-H program is offering EIGHT stations of make-and-take projects on Saturday, December 1, 2018 from 1:00 to 3:00 pm at the Extension Education Center located on 64 Ferndale-Loomis Road in Liberty. A snow date is scheduled for December 2. Parents are welcome and children younger than 8 must be accompanied by an adult.

CCESC volunteers and Sullivan County community agencies will offer 8 experiential learning stations with highlights including mini snow globes, holiday pins, angel ornaments, festive cookie pops, make-your-own seasonings, upcycled button ornaments, community service cards, and more!

Cost is $10 per child or $5 per enrolled 4-H member. Space is limited and registration with non-refundable payment is required in advance by visiting www.sullivancce.org/events, emailing sullivan@cornell.edu, or calling CCESC at 845-292-6180. Payment can be made by check, cash, or credit. Additional donations for CCESC programs are appreciated.

Any Sullivan County youth ages 5-18 can apply to enroll in 4-H for free, all year long. To learn more about 4-H, call CCESC at 845-292-6180 or visit <http://sullivancce.org/4-h-youth-development>.

Cornell Cooperative Extension's 4-H Youth Development program empowers any youth ages 5-18 to reach their full potential, working and learning in partnership with caring adults. 4-H members have opportunities to connect to Cornell University resources and gain career readiness skills through hands-on activities and "learning by doing".
