Meet Sabrina DeRue, the 4-H Camp Wabasso Director! Sabrina has worked for Cornell Cooperative Extension of Jefferson County since September of 2013. She started her career at Extension in the LaFargeville 4-H Afterschool Program as a program assistant. She has grown throughout the years to eventually becoming the 4-H Program Manager in 2018. She has now taken on the responsibility of the 4-H Camp Wabasso Director for the 2020 season.

Over the past three years, Sabrina has worked with camp on many levels. She has been responsible for all of the off-season programming, helped with interviewing camp staff, completed contractual paperwork, provided programming at camp during peak season, and she has helped train camp staff on 4-H programming. Sabrina fell in love with camp the first time she saw the impact the programming had on the youth participants and is very excited to start this next part of her career!

Before her time at Extension, Sabrina went to the SUNY College of Environmental Science and earned her Bachelors of Science in Conservation Biology with a focus on environmental education. In her spare time Sabrina likes to hike, geocache, camp and kayak. Sabrina looks forward to bringing her passion for environmental science to the campers at 4-H Camp Wabasso!

4-H Camp Wabasso is located in the Indian River Lakes region of Jefferson County and features 177 wooded acres, a nature pond, and a half mile of sandy beach on Millsite Lake. Campers are housed in cabins with a minimum of four other campers and at least one senior counselor, depending on cabin size. Cabins are screened and equipped with lights and smoke detectors. Beds and mattresses are provided with campers providing the bedding. Toilets and hot showers are located in the bathhouse. There are separate accommodations for boys and girls, with cabin assignments based on appropriate age ranges. Since the camp is located in the woods, campers should not be surprised to find the occasional chipmunk under the cabin or spider in the bathroom.
