Green Bean Basics

Shop and Save

- Choose fresh green beans with a bright green color and firm texture; they should snap easily when bent. Avoid beans with brown spots or bruises.
- Beans should be mostly smooth on the surface. Large bumps may mean that the bean is more mature and less tender to eat.
- You can use fresh, frozen or canned green beans in most recipes. Choose what is cheapest.
- If larger bags of frozen green beans are cheaper per ounce, use what you need then press out the air and reseal the bag carefully. Return to the freezer immediately.

Green beans are a good source of vitamin K and vitamin C.

1 pound fresh green beans =
about 3 cups when cut or 2 cups cooked

Types of Canned and Frozen Green Beans

Whole

Cut - Beans sliced crosswise.

Julienned or French Cut -

Beans sliced lengthwise.

For color variety, try yellow wax beans. Use them just like green beans.

Store Well Waste Less

- Refrigerate fresh green beans in an open plastic bag; use within 1 week.
- Store canned green beans in a cool, dry place at room temperature and use within 8 to 12 months for best quality.
- Frozen green beans should be used within 8 to 12 months. Freeze your own green beans. Blanch the beans in boiling water for 3 minutes. Cool quickly in ice water. Drain. Freeze separated beans on a cookie sheet before packaging and package in labeled containers or freezer bags and freeze right away.

Green beans are also known as string beans or snap beans
