

Cornell Cooperative Extension Schenectady County

The Roots and Wisdom Program reaches Schenectady County youth and community at large by providing garden-based education as well as life-skills and job training opportunities.

Highlights from Roots & Wisdom's year-round program during the 2022-2023 Season:

- Delivered educational programs to students from the Schenectady City, Mohonasen Central and Schalmont Central School Districts, home-schoolers, as well as participants from Girls Inc., and Schenectady ARC.
- Distributed over 10,000 pounds of fresh produce through a youth-run farm stand, a CSA called Harvest Share, and donation to local charitable organizations and individuals in need.
- Provided job and life-skill training, leadership development, and education in sustainable agriculture, recycling, nutrition, diversity and inclusion, and food insecurity.
- Over 200 participants benefitted from the Roots & Wisdom program this year.

Roots and Wisdom brings the community together through sustainable agriculture by providing education and valuable work and volunteer opportunities.

Help us do it again next season!
