

How To Measure Your Spat

You are going to measure your spat from the umbo (hinge site) to the top of the shell. Refer to the images below for a visualization.

You will be measuring the height only for your oyster gardening project. The digital calipers will tell you the exact measurement in millimeters. Record the shell height (SH) of 2 spat per shell (15 shells total – 30 measurements total).