

TELEPHONE

Time for a quick round of telephone! Gather in a circle, and have one person start by whispering a statement about the past year (for example: "There were so many hurricanes this year!" into their neighbor's ear. Whisper the phrase from one person to the next, until the last person in the circle has heard the phrase. Have them say it outloud - it'll usually end up being totally different!

TWO RESOLUTION AND A LIE

Take turns saying three of your resolutions or goals out loud to the group - except, only two of your goals have to be real. One of them should be made up! Have everyone guess which one is the false one.

IS THAT A QUESTION?

Start by asking someone a question, then they will need to immediately ask someone else a question, and so on, until someone breaks the chain. Whoever messes up has to finish their drink!
