

Foam board design by Paul E

Bender

---

---

---

A black horizontal line that features a central dip or notch. The line is composed of three segments: a horizontal segment on the left, a shorter horizontal segment in the middle at a lower vertical level, and a horizontal segment on the right that returns to the original vertical level. The vertical transitions between segments are sharp and perpendicular.

