

Position & Practice: Saints

2 Cor 5:14-17

A stylized, abstract graphic in shades of tan and gold. It features a network of thin, branching lines resembling veins or roots, with a few larger, more solid, leaf-like shapes. The overall composition is organic and flowing, set against a light beige background.

“For the love of Christ controls us, having concluded this, that one died for all,
therefore all died;”

2 Corinthians 5:14 (NASB 1995)

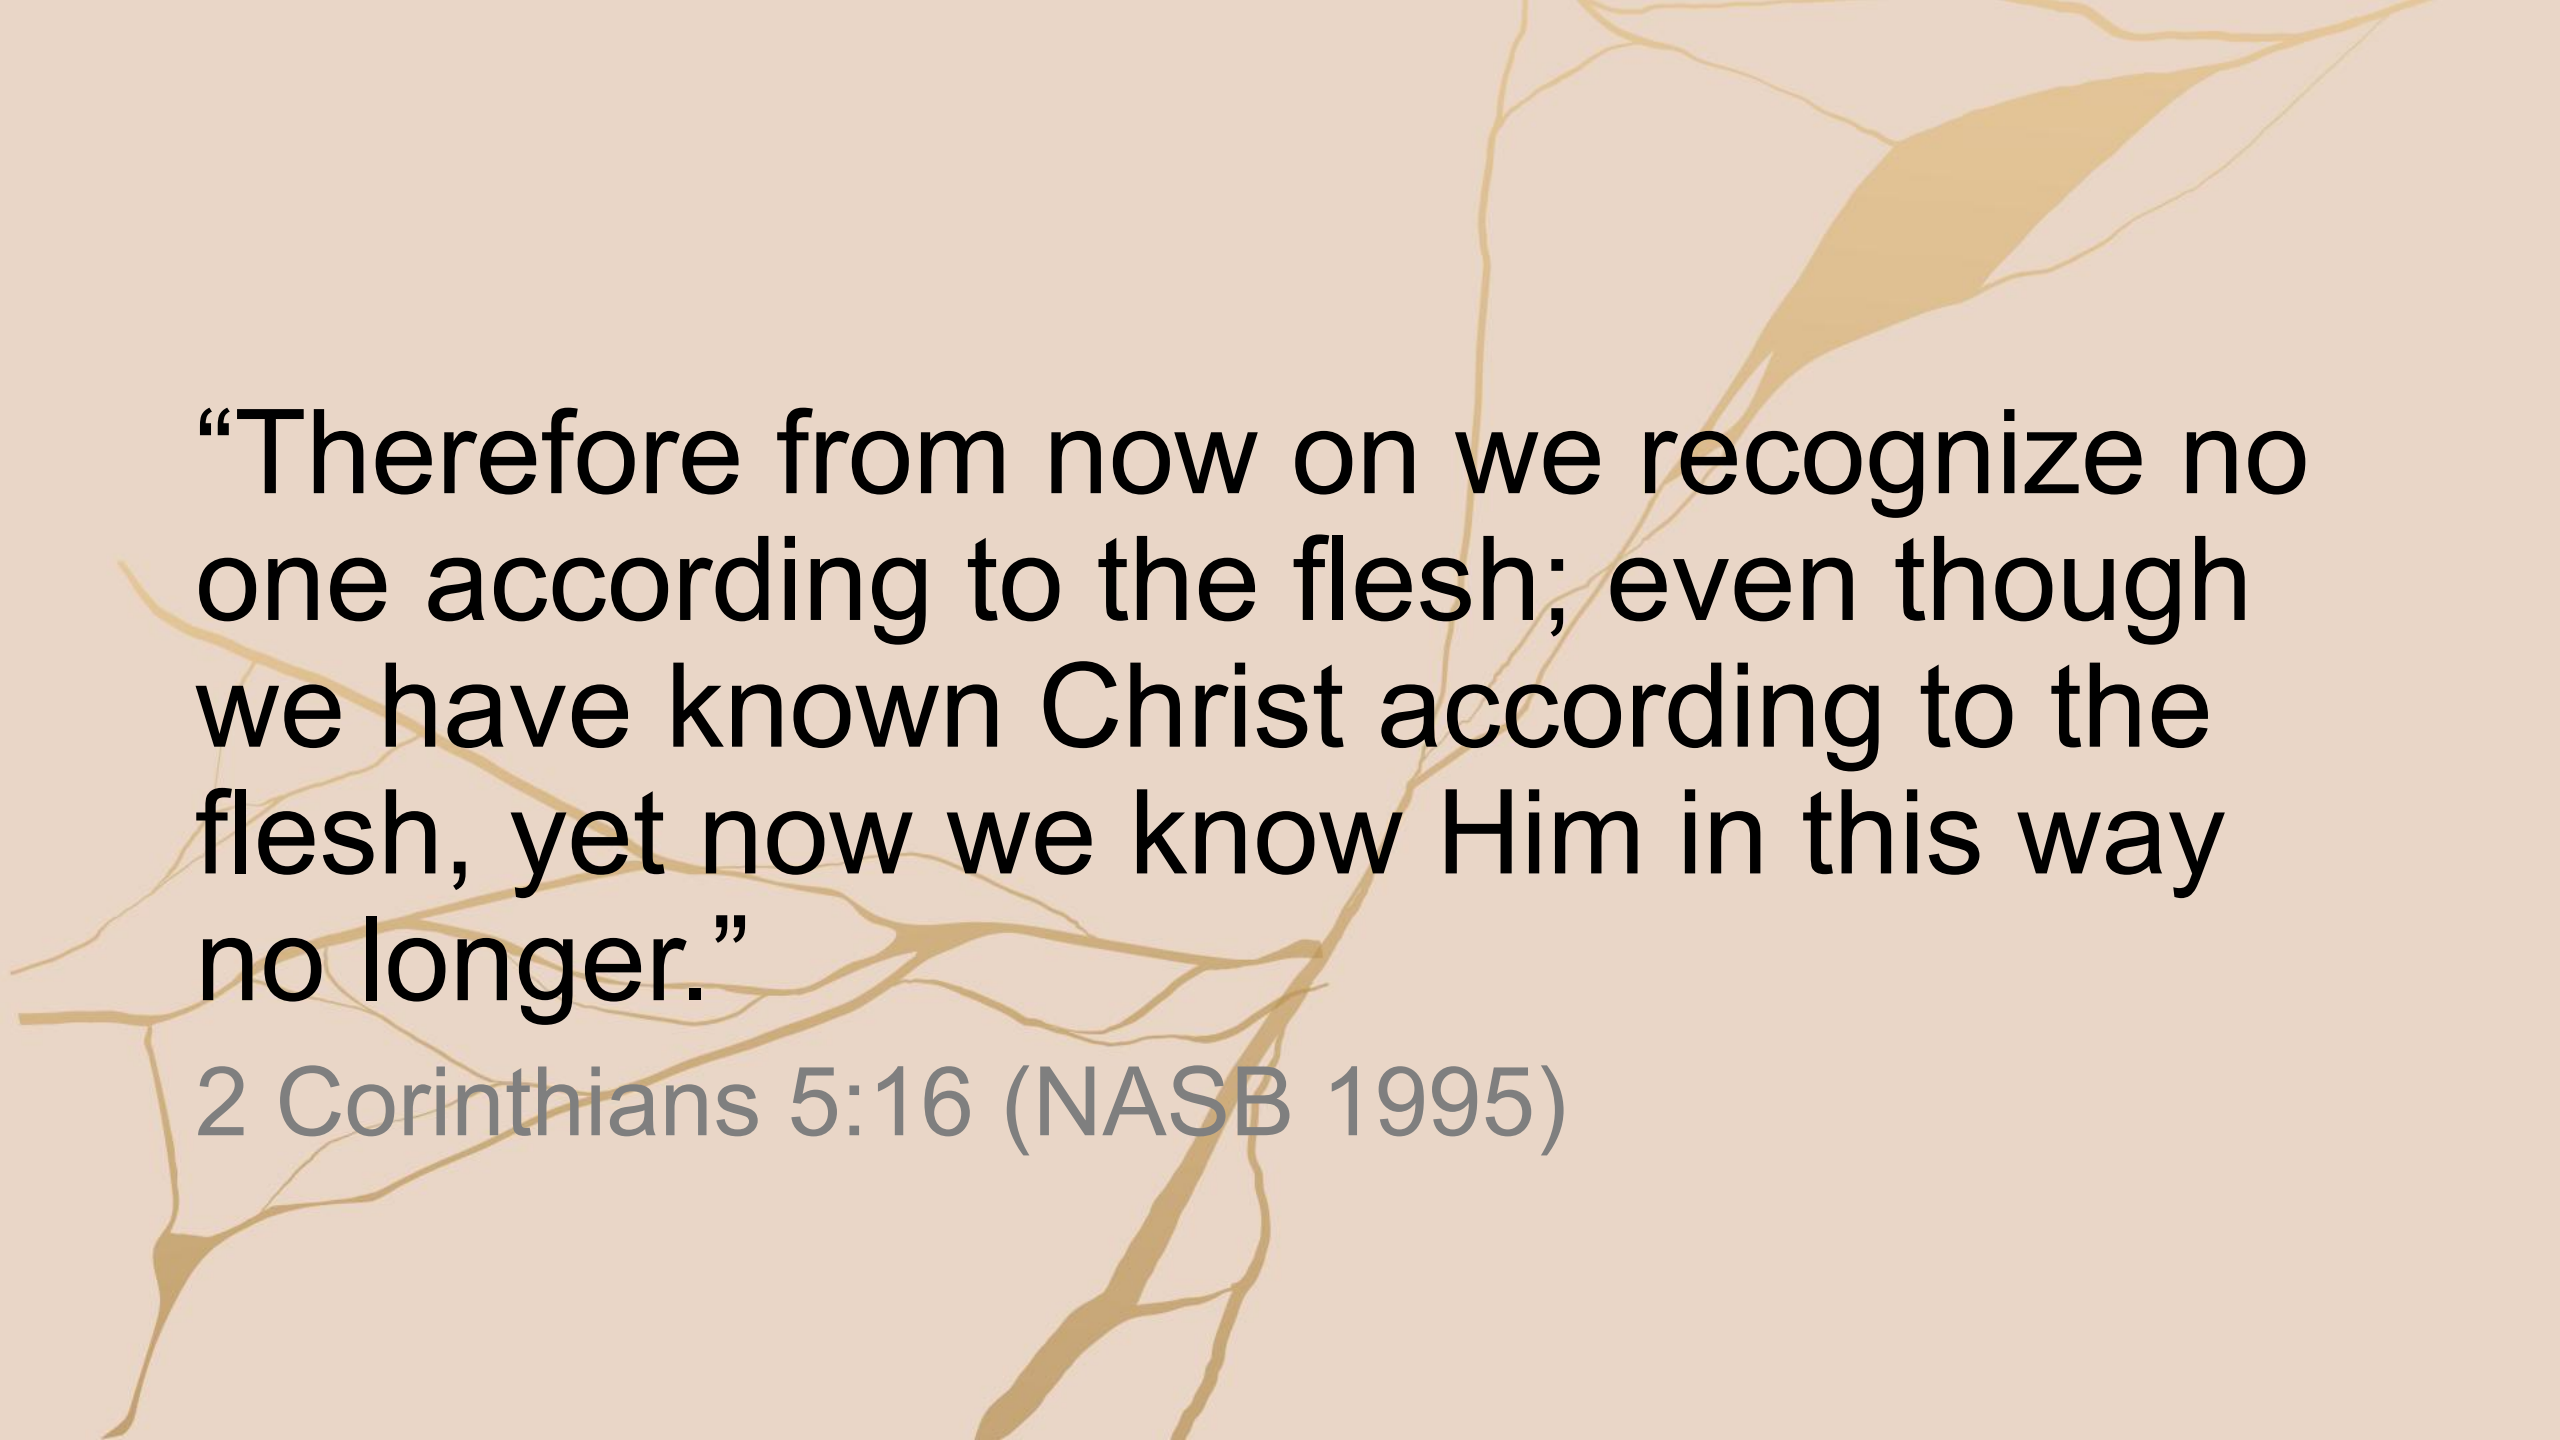

A stylized, abstract graphic in shades of tan and gold, resembling a leaf or a branch, is positioned in the upper right corner of the slide. It has a central vein-like structure with several smaller, branching elements extending from it.

“and He died for all, so that they who live might no longer live for themselves, but for Him who died and rose again on their behalf.”

2 Corinthians 5:15 (NASB 1995)

A stylized, light-colored graphic of a leaf and branches is positioned in the upper right corner of the slide, extending diagonally across the background.

“Therefore from now on we recognize no one according to the flesh; even though we have known Christ according to the flesh, yet now we know Him in this way no longer.”

2 Corinthians 5:16 (NASB 1995)

The background of the slide features a stylized, abstract illustration of a leaf and its veins in a light tan or beige color, set against a slightly darker tan background. The lines are thin and elegant, creating a sense of organic growth and movement.

“Therefore if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creature; the old things passed away; behold, new things have come.”

2 Corinthians 5:17 (NASB 1995)
