Instructions for use

1. Plug the receiver into the microphone input of the speaker or amplifier;
2. Turn on the receiver power switch;
3. Turn on the power switch of the handheld microphone (install a 18650 Battery).

FM operation:

1. If you need frequency modulation, please operate with the receiver turned on;
2. When FM, just press the FM switch to adjust to the next frequency;
3. When performing frequency pairing, turn on the power switches of both the handheld microphone and the receiver at the same time. Wait for about 2 seconds. When the indicator light of the receiver is on, it means the connection is successful.

Troubleshooting:

1. When there is no sound or the sound is weak, first check the power supply to ensure that the receiver is connected properly, the handheld microphone has sufficient power, and the battery is inserted in the correct way. When the power is normal or the sound is faint, please increase the volume of the speaker or amplifier.
2. When there is distortion or excess noise, check whether there are interfering devices nearby, such as CD players, computers, digital devices, earplug monitoring systems, etc, try to remove the device first. If multiple systems are used, the frequency interval between the systems can be increased.
