FEATURE PROJECT

Cleveland's Innerbelt Bridge — "Shaping a New Skyline"

The Cuyahoga River valley is full of activity with the on-going construction of the largest ODOT contract ever awarded, the new westbound I-90 viaduct bridge. The new bridge will be one of two spans eventually built to replace the aging span opened over 50 years ago. The bridge is being built utilizing the design build delivery system, where construction and design are being done concurrently. Walsh Construction Co. and HNTB are the designer/builder of this unique project.

Although this is a bridge project, there is a considerable amount of approach work in Tremont and near Progressive Field to tie-in the new bridge to the existing highway alignment. A new extension of E. 9th Street and Broadway Rd. are also required for this project, which produced a scope of work that fits our capabilities well.
