

joyful noise!

Caregiver Newsletter

October 26 2018 "It is okay to take a risk and try something new"-

Research Study

Indiana University researchers are looking for participants (Persons diagnosed with dementia and their caregivers) for a 60-minute study about food practices and information related to food. Both Participants will participate together in an interview with the researchers. The study will be done at the school of informatics and computing and involves no medical procedures, pills, or tests. Each participant will earn a $15 gift card.

How to participate:

- If interested in the study, Please access this link, if you are a caregiver, or ask your caregiver to access.

<https://goo.gl/forms/ct1JZOTptl8XW42>

- Fill in the assessment form (only the caregiver should fill the form).
- The researchers will contact you if you are eligible to participate.
- Questions? Contact Luiz Cavalcanti at (317)909-5210 (voice message) or at lucaval@iu.edu (email)

Faces of Joy

Highlights of the week of October 22-26th

- Monday: We talked about scarecrows and the change in weather
- Tuesday: Discussions of fall and the World Series
- Wednesday: Laughter, silliness and spiders were topics
- Thursday: Pumpkin carving was the favorite group of the day.
- Friday: Frankenstein and words with double OO's

Joy's House serves families by providing exceptional adult day and caregiver services.

