Caregiver Newsletter

October 5, 2018 "It costs nothing to be kind" -Anonymous

Week in Review October 1-5th

Monday: The topic of discussion was books and how they shape our world

Tuesday: All about cartoons- what are the theme songs, can you identify the famous characters and their catch phrases? Just a few of the games we played today

Wednesday: M-I-C-K-E-Y- was the topic of the day. Guests listened to the theme song from the original Mickey Mouse club show and made a mouse craft

Thursday: Team trivia and the language of the CB radio were things that happened at the house today

Friday: World smile day was celebrated today with crafts and lists of things that make us smile

Volunteers and their impact

Definition of volunteer: a person who voluntarily undertakes or expresses a willingness to undertake a service.

Volunteers are always a presence at Joy's House. We are privileged to have volunteers from the University of Indianapolis, Roncalli High School, Pro-Act, the Orr Fellowship program (the group in the photo above), Boy Scouts and from the community at large. Our volunteers are willing to do a little bit of everything from helping prep crafts, spend time with the Guests, yard work, build things for us, and help with keeping the house clean. Join us in thanking our volunteers when you see them at the house!

Joy's House serves families by providing exceptional adult day and caregiver services.
