

ELI = FUR

BIO 2024 (SHORT)

Eli & Fur's unwavering passion for producing, songwriting and performing, plus a flair for creating dark emotive dance anthems, have put the British born, LA based duo firmly at the forefront of the international house & techno scene. Their sonic aesthetic marries a mysterious and enigmatic mood with evocative vocals, cascading synths and rolling basslines - a heady mix that is both addictive and mesmerising. It's sincere, biographical and inspired by everything from late-night living to their global travels. Whether it's tales from the club and the after-hours parties, love, life, laughter and rebellion, their productions have captured the imaginations of followers all over the globe.

Collaborations with heavyweights including Meduza, Camelphat, Disciples, Danny Howard, and Booka Shade, plus a steady stream of releases on their own label NYX Music including the re-release of their seminal track "You're So High" which amassed over 150M global streams. Eli & Fur have also released on legendary imprints Crosstown Rebels, Anjunadeep, Positiva, Sony RCA, Cercle, Last Night On Earth and Embassy One have cemented Eli & Fur's reputation for hypnotising compositions, a sound that truly fulfils their manifesto.

Their chemistry on the decks is intoxicating and has seen them seduce dancefloors from LA to Berlin and grace the big stages at festivals including Coachella, EDC, Glastonbury, Tomorrowland and Creamfields, headlining London's Printworks, as well as appearing on Boiler Room and BBC Radio 1's Essential Mix. They've picked up a slew of accolades - 'Best Producer' in the Bass Music Awards, 'Best Breakthrough DJ' at DJ Magazine's 'Best of British' and 'Best Breakthrough Artist' in the IDMA Awards among them. It's no surprise that the duo have come to the attention of the fashion world, performing at several shows for Christian Dior and collaborating with Stella McCartney, The Kooples, and YSL, as well as being featured in Vogue.

Eli & Fur are embracing the future with a firm focus on their ambitions and direction, and with the release of a critically acclaimed number 1 Electronic Album 'Found In The Wild', a seminal live performance for Cercle, plus a new album on the way, their upward trajectory is set to continue.

Shorter Edit:

Eli & Fur's unwavering passion for producing, songwriting and performing, plus a flair for creating dark emotive dance anthems, have put the London based duo firmly at the forefront of the international house & techno scene. Their sonic aesthetic marries a mysterious and enigmatic mood with evocative vocals, cascading synths and rolling basslines - a heady mix that is both addictive and mesmerising.

Collaborations with heavyweights including Camelphat, Meduza, Disciples, Danny Howard, and Booka Shade, plus a steady stream of releases on their own label NYX Music as well as seminal imprints Crosstown Rebels, Anjunadeep, Positiva, Sony RCA, Last Night On Earth and Embassy One, have cemented Eli & Fur's reputation for hypnotising compositions, a sound that truly fulfils their manifesto.

Seducing dance floors from LA to Berlin and gracing the big stages at festivals including Coachella, Glastonbury, Tomorrowland and Creamfields, as well as appearing on Boiler Room and BBC Radio 1's Essential Mix, the duo have also come to the attention of the fashion world, performing at several shows for Christian Dior and collaborating with Stella McCartney, as well as being featured in Vogue.

Eli & Fur are embracing the future with a firm focus on their ambitions and direction, and with the release of a critically acclaimed number 1 Electronic Album 'Found In The Wild', a seminal live performance for Cercle, plus a new album on the way, their upward trajectory is set to continue.