ABOUT

Sinego is a music producer whose Latin-flavored electronic tracks have reached more than 40 million streams on Spotify. His productions have gone viral on digital platforms thanks to the mix of House with timeless melodies from traditional Boleros (a genre that originated in Cuba and gained widespread popularity around Latin America throughout the 20th century).

Thanks to his innovative sound design and production; labels like Warner, Ultra Music, Selected, and Sony Music have trusted Sinego to work and tour with artists like Sofi Tukker, Nervo, The Knocks, Sekai No Owari, Elsa Y Elmar, Miami Horror, Bag Raiders & Hermitude in order to take them to distinctive sounds where genres become fluid and give birth to songs that remember artists like Black Coffee, Peggy Gou & Nicolas Jaar

Now, after playing at festivals like EDC, and gaining support from editorials like Billboard, Rolling Stone, and Forbes; Sinego is planning to bring together the fine line between mainstream Latin music and underground electronic music.
