Carry a computer and more in contemporary style. There's nothing common or ordinary about the MANHATTAN Zurich Notebook Computer Briefcase. Under the front flap with magnetic closure, a zippered pocket holds three pen loops and an ID/business card holder to keep writing instruments and cards ready for the best first impression. Two key hooks, one equipped with a quick-release clip, help prevent scratches and damage to equipment caused by loose, unfastened keys. Both are ideal for securing home, car or office keys and a digital camera, USB flash drive or other small electronic device. Other pockets secure computer accessories, cables and other equipment. The rear zippered pocket conveniently holds newspapers, magazines and airline tickets. A separate interior sleeve stores a wet umbrella or other gear. The cushioned handle and adjustable, non-slip removable shoulder strap make lifting and loading into overhead bins and racks easier, as well as carrying through airports and city streets. When traveling with extra luggage, a rear strap slips onto an extended rolling bag handle.

Pack and organize for success

The padded computer sleeve lined with advanced cellular padding and elastic strap accommodates most notebook computers with widescreens up to 17". The top-load, detachable design removes to quickly and easily get through airport inspections. Remove it and the briefcase becomes an overnight suitcase. Two full-sized main interior storage compartments provide a place for nearly everything and keep everything in its place. Accordion-style pockets keep papers and documents smooth and flat and easy to find. More zippered pockets provide ample storage space.
