

Your Church Can Get Involved and Partner with the Country of Sierra Leone

Sierra Leone, on the west coast of Africa, is one of the poorest countries in the world. It consistently ranks as one of the least developed countries on the United Nations Human Development Index. It also has one of the highest infant mortality rates in the world (children dying before reaching age five). Coupled with this overwhelming poverty, from 1991 to 2001 Sierra Leone was embroiled in a devastating civil war in which tens of thousands of people were killed and an estimated one million people were forced from their homes and villages.

This is when COTN came to Sierra Leone. The war destroyed much of the country's infrastructure and has left its lasting scars, most notably on the children—leaving 320,000 children orphaned. Most people in Sierra Leone live in rural farming communities. In a village, a typical family dwelling is a mud-walled home with a dirt floor and a thatched roof. Cooking is done by outdoor fire. Laundry, washing, and bathing are done in the nearest river or with water hauled from the closest water source.

Since most families can barely grow enough food to feed themselves, let alone produce a surplus to sell and generate an income, malnutrition is particularly devastating, especially among the children. Access to healthcare is severely limited. Every day, children and adults die from non-life-threatening diseases or treatable/preventable conditions that have turned fatal. Education also faces two major hurdles in most Sierra Leone communities: it is not readily accessible, and it is not fully valued, especially for girls.

In Sierra Leone, we have one Children's Home and two Village Partnership Programs. We have around 50 children in our Children's Home program, over 150 students in our University/Vocational Program, and around 1,000 children in our Village Partnership Programs. Alongside caring partners like you, COTN has helped establish a daily presence in several communities, providing schools, medical clinics, feeding centers, health initiatives, Christian discipleship, opportunities for young adults to attend university, clean water, sustainable development, and more.

Your church can host a Sponsorship Sunday events, or individuals can sponsor at any time.
