

CHARLES OLIVER BRUFF,

GOLDSMITH and JEWELLER,

At the sign of the tea-pot, tankard, and ear-ring, between Maiden-Lane and Crown-Street, next door to Doctor Kennershi, near the Fly-Market;

WHERE he makes and mends any kind of diamond or enamelled work in the jewellery way: Also all manner of stone buckles, stone rings, ear-rings and brooches, solitaires, hair jewels, lockets, enamelled sleeves buttons, mourning rings of all sorts, trinkets for ladies, rings and lockets, plain or enamelled; gold necklaces, and stones of all sorts: Likewise makes and mends all sorts of silver-smiths work; Also ladies fans neatly mended. He gives the highest price for old gold, silver and jewels; buys rough crystal, handsome pebble, and blank corneelian, fit for seal stones: He has fitted a Lapidary mill up, where he cuts all sorts of stones. He wants immediately a lapidary, jeweller, and an apprentice boy; none need apply but what can be well recommended. He engraves all sorts of arms, crests, cyphers, heads and fancies, in the neatest manner and greatest expedition, with the heads of Lord Chatbam, Shakespear, Milton, Newton, Pope, Homer, Socrates, Hannibal, Marc Anthony, Cæsar, Plato, Jupiter, Apollo, Neptune, Mars, Cleopatra, Diana, Flora, Venus, Marcelania, Masons arms, with all emblems of liberty; Cupid fancies, hearts and doves neatly engraved for ladies trinkets. Likewise silver and steel seals. He also plaits hair in the neatest manner. N. B. Takes likenesses off in hair as natural as possible, as to the form of visages; works hair in sprigs, birds, figures, cyphers, crests and cupid fancies. He has for sale, best corals for whistles and bells; likewise cleans watches as china dial plates fitted in at 6s. each, glasses fitted in at 1s. each, and other repairs in proportion. Three rooms to be let; enquire of said Bruff.