

A LIST of the Rebel Congress as chosen for the year 1779.

JOHN JAY, President.

NEW-HAMPSHIRE.

Josiah Bartlet, John Wentworth, William Whipple, George Frost.

MASSACHUSETTS-BAY.

John Hancock, Samuel Adams, Elbridge Gerry, Francis Dana, James Lovell, Samuel Holton, Timothy Edwards.

RHODE ISLAND.

Stephen Hopkins, William Ellery, John Collins.

CONNECTICUT.

Roger Sherman, Titus Hossmer, Eliphalet Dyer, Samuel Huntington, Oliver Kilsworth, Andrew Adams, Jesse Root.

NEW-YORK.

John Jay, James Duane, Gouverneur Morris, Philip Schuyler, William Floyd, Francis Lewis.

NEW-JERSEY.

John Witherspoon, Nathaniel Scudder, Frederick Frelinghuysen, John Fell, John Neilson.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Daniel Roberdeau, William Clingham, John Armstrong, William Shippen, Samuel J. Atlee, James Searle.

DELAWARE.

Cæsar Rodney, Nicholas Vandyke, Thomas M'Kean.

MARYLAND.

George Plater, William Paca, William Carmichael, John Henry, James Forbes, Daniel of St. Thomas Jenifer.

VIRGINIA.

Thomas Adams, John Herve, John Banister, Francis Lightfoot Lee, Meriwether Smith, Richard Henry Lee, Cyrus Griffin.

NORTH-CAROLINA.

John Penn, Cornelius Harnet, John Williams, Whitcomb Hill, Thomas Burke.

SOUTH-CAROLINA.

Henry Laurens, William Henry Drayton, John Matthews, Thomas Heyward, Richard Colton.

GEORGIA.

Lyman Hall, George Walton, Joseph Clay, John Walton, Edward Telfair, Joseph Wood, Leonard Langworthy.

Charles Thomson, Secretary.

By a gentleman arrived last night from Jersey we are informed that, the real estates of more than two hundred loyalists, natives of that province, are advertised for sale; that the Pennsylvania Assembly have rescinded their former resolve for calling a convention to take the sense of the constituents for altering the old constitution. At that city the price of flour is twenty pounds an hundred; the continental bills continue to flux daily in their value.---The distilling of liquors had been prohibited at Philadelphia.---

The price of flour at Baltimore in Maryland was sixteen pounds per 100.

The following paragraphs are literally extracted from Mr. Goddard's Baltimore Advertiser, dated February 16.

The Royal Army in Georgia having been joined by one thousand men from Florida, under Col. Prevost, consisted, when the last accounts came away, of six thousand effective men, &c.

Admiral Byron with eighteen sail of the line, and many frigates, had blockaded up Count D'Astaign's Squadron in the harbour of Port Royal in Martinico, while an expedition was prosecuting by the Britons, for dis-possessing the French of the Island of Dominica.

The following is extracted from the Speech of Mr. Rawlins Lowndes, Rebel Governor of South-Carolina, to his Assembly on the 17th of January.

Our Inveterate and odious enemies are in possession of Savannah, the capital of Georgia; from whence, if not prevented, an easy transition may be made into this country. This situation of danger, Gentlemen, calls for your most serious consideration. Our whole force and strength should be exerted, to stop the progress of the enemy. Government ought to be intrusted with ample powers, to enable it to act vigorously and decisively in the present conjuncture.

He then recommended a general amnesty to the deluded and misled inhabitants, and mentioned that the embargo had expired on the 12th of January,
the embargo now in force respects only the prohibition on the exportation of provisions; that he had commissioned Richard, Richardlyn, Stephen Bull, & Andrew Williamson, to be Brigadier Generals, and as their affairs will in all probability be now determined by arms rather than councils, he hoped for a speedy dismission from his office of Governor.