

Why We Created Algonot

The Algonot Family of patented Nutraceuticals is intended for individuals with unique sensitivities. The greatest consideration is taken in the selection and exclusion of ingredients in our formulations for the benefit of our customers.

Meeting our customer's needs for purity, safety and label honesty is our priority.

Scientific Formulation

The exclusive Olive Pomace Oil distinctive to our formulations is used to ensure the greatest absorption of key ingredients. The unique patented formulas behind Algonot's family of nutraceuticals are predicated on published research.

These formulas were created with input from internationally acclaimed physician scientists under the guidance of the Scientific Director, T.C. Theoharides, MS, MPhil, PhD, MD. Independent laboratory testing certifies and assures that our ingredients are pure, safe and free of additives, and allergens, dyes, fillers or other additives.

Research Commitment

Research is the basis of the selection and combination of our all natural key ingredients, their source and purity.

As a testament to our commitment, portions of our proceeds go toward supporting current and future research.
