

Bonk, Inc. Reports January Net Revenue of $2.46 Million from BONK.fun Interest; Monthly Income Surges 68%

Reconciled On-Chain Data Confirms $2,464,116 in Actual Received Income for January; Annualized Run Rate Approaches $30 Million

SCOTTSDALE, ARIZONA / ACCESS Newswire / February 9, 2026 / Bonk, Inc. (Nasdaq:BNKK) today released confirmed performance data for the full month of January 2026. Following a breakout fourth quarter, the Company's primary revenue-generating asset, BONK.fun, has delivered a continued trajectory of significant growth to start the new fiscal year.

The Data: Reconciled Net Income While third-party aggregators (such as DeFiLlama) reported raw total platform income of approximately $5.14 million for the month, Bonk, Inc. has completed a full reconciliation of wallet receipts to account for cost-of-revenue adjustments and aggregator discrepancies.

- January 2026 Net Revenue (Received): $2,464,116
- December 2025 Revenue (Comparable): $1.47 Million
- Growth Rate: Approximately 68% increase Month-over-Month.

The confirmed $2.46 million figure represents the actual cash flow received by Bonk, Inc.'s wallets (net of network costs), validating the high-margin nature of the revenue stream.

Financial Implications The jump to $2.46 million in monthly net income places the asset on an annualized run rate of approximately $30 million. This performance significantly exceeds the internal targets set by management for Q1 2026 and provides strong cash flow visibility for the Company's operations and treasury accumulation strategy.

Operational Highlights The surge in January revenue validates the Company's "Flight to Quality" thesis. Despite volatility in the broader digital asset markets, users and creators continued to migrate to BONK.fun throughout the month, attracted by its community alignment and transparent infrastructure.

Management Commentary "Scaling revenue by nearly 70% in a single month is a testament to the product-market fit BONK.fun has achieved," said Mitchell Rudy (a.k.a. Nom), Bonk, Inc. Board Director and BONK Core Contributor. "While raw data from aggregators can vary, our wallet receipts tell the definitive story: we realized $2.46 million in actual income for January. This moves us from theoretical growth to tangible financial results that are actively strengthening our balance sheet."
