As late-stage biotech pipelines mature, fair-value remeasurements under U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) are emerging as critical indicators of tangible scientific and commercial progress. These revaluations provide a financial bridge between laboratory breakthroughs and shareholder value, offering investors a clearer picture of how innovation becomes measurable enterprise worth.

Oncotelic Therapeutics Inc. exemplifies this shift as the company prepares for a significant fair-value remeasurement of its 45% stake in joint venture (JV) entity GMP Bio, driven by a new independent valuation indicating a potential step-up in asset value. This key shift strengthens Oncotelic Therapeutics position in the oncology space as the company works to make a difference.

About Oncotelic Therapeutics Inc.

Oncotelic Therapeutics is a clinical-stage biopharmaceutical company focused on the development of oncology and immunotherapy products. The company's mission is to address high-unmet-need cancers and rare pediatric indications with innovative, late-stage therapeutic candidates. In addition to its directly owned and developed drug pipeline, Oncotelic benefits from the robust portfolio of inventions created by its CEO, Dr. Vuong Trieu, who has filed more than 150 patent applications and holds 39 issued U.S. patents. Beyond its internal programs, the company also licenses and codevelops select drug candidates through joint ventures. Currently, Oncotelic owns 45% of GMP Bio, a joint venture under Trieu's leadership and guidance, which is advancing its own pipeline of drug candidates that further complement and strengthen Oncotelic's strategic position in oncology and rare disease therapeutics.
