

Unusual Machines Hosts Live Drone Ecosystem Demonstrations at XPONENTIAL 2026

Fly cage demonstrations to feature deployment-ready defense and enterprise systems

ORLANDO, FL / ACCESS Newswire / May 8, 2026 / Unusual Machines, Inc. (NYSE American:UMAC), a leading manufacturer of NDAA-compliant drone components, will bring together industry partners for live demonstrations at XPONENTIAL 2026, one of the world's leading events for autonomy and uncrewed systems.

Located at Booth #20013, the Company's fly cage will feature demonstrations by partners including HP Additive Manufacturing Solutions, XTEND, Mithril Defense, Robinson Unmanned, UAS Nexus, and BRINC, highlighting deployment-ready systems across defense and enterprise markets.

"AUVSI is a critical forum for the industry," said Allan Evans, Chief Executive Officer of Unusual Machines. "XPONENTIAL brings together the operators, builders, and partners driving real-world deployment across the autonomy ecosystem, and we're excited to showcase the systems and partnerships helping move the industry forward."

Allan Evans will also speak at XPONENTIAL 2026 on Tuesday, May 12, from 2:30-2:50 p.m. ET during a session titled "Strategic Resilience in a Fractured Supply Chain: Building the Future of U.S. Technology."

Hosted by AUVSI, the Association for Uncrewed Vehicle Systems International, XPONENTIAL 2026 takes place May 11-14, 2026, in Detroit, Michigan.
